Dr. Ward Clings To Life

Aging Playboy Who Took Drug Has Pneumonia

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Stephen Ward lay near death Thursday night with bronchial pneumonia. A machine pumped breath into his drugged body.

Doctors at St. Stephen's Hospital reported the 50-year-old playboy osteopath took a turn for the worse after a morning operation to introduce a tube into his windpipe to help him breathe.

The apparatus is an iron lung type of machine.

Ward has not recovered consciousness since swallowing a drug overdose Wednesday morning before he was due to attend the last day of his Old Bailey trial.

The sensational eight-day case stemmed from Christine Keeler's ill-starred love affair with ex-War Minister John Profumo, whose public disgrace almost toppled Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government.

With Ward absent, the jury found him guilty on two counts of living off the immoral earnings of Christine, 21, and her friend, Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies, 18.

The judge postponed sentencing until Ward could be brought before the court. At the time it was stated that might be about next Tuesday but hospital authorities said this was unlikely.

One of Ward's attorneys stood by in the hospital, waiting for his revival and the right moment to break the news of the jury verdict.

One medical source said pneumonia was a common complication in barbiturate poisoning. Normally patients recover from their coma more quickly than Ward.

But with Ward still unconscious nearly 36 hours after the dose, treatment would obviously be difficult, the source said.

'Project Coach' Runs Into Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Technical difficulties were blamed Thursday for postponement of an attempt by American scientists to create new chemical elements — heavier than any yet discovered in nature — by exploding a nuclear device nearly a quarter of a mile deep in a salt bed near Carlsbad, N.M.

The venture, known as "Project Coach," originally had been planned for sometime this year as part of the Atomic Energy Commission's "Plowshare" program for the development of peaceful applications of nuclear explosives.

But the AEC announced Thursday that "technical difficulties . . . related to the special nuclear explosive required for this experiment" had developed, ruling out any such experiment this year.

However, the commission indicated it planned to go ahead with the venture at some indefinite future time. Since it would be conducted underground, the test would not be barred by the nuclear test-ban treaty to be signed Monday.

Storm Kills Four In Md., Del. Areas

By The Associated Press

A severe thunderstorm that hit the Maryland-Delaware areas suddenly late Thursday left four persons dead in its wake.

Two persons were drowned when the boat in which they were riding capsized in heavy seas whipped up by 50-knot winds.

Lightning killed two persons in separate accidents—one in Baltimore and one in Southern Delaware.

The drowning victims were not immediately identified.

Baltimore County Police said the two victims were among four persons in a 14-foot boat that capsized in Back River just east of Baltimore. Spectators pulled two of the four from the water after the boat capsized, but a man and a woman went under and were not seen again. Police recovered one body and were searching for the second.

One of the lightning victims, Melvin Cox, 16, of Baltimore, was riding in the back of his father's pickup truck when he was hit. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Baltimore's University Hospital.

The second lightning victim was Charles Clentscale, 24, a migrant laborer from Pahokee, Fla. State Police said he had been picking tomatoes in a field south of Dover, Del., when the lightning struck him. His mother, Mrs. Ida Mae Clentscale, 44, also was hit, but she was not seriously injured, police said.

Baltimore County which surrounds much of Baltimore City was heaviest hit by the storm, which dumped as much as 2½ inches of rain and hail on some sections.

House Votes $5.2 Billion For Space Exploration

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only a few dissenting voices raised, the House voted Thursday to authorize some $5.2 billion for space exploration this year. The roll call vote was 334 to 57.

The amount was about $1.5 billion over last year's budget and three times the 1961 amount. But it was $500 million less than the administration had asked.

Only Rep. Ben Jensen, R-Iowa, spoke out against the idea of landing a man on the moon, the space program's goal by the end of this decade.

"For what?" Jensen asked. "I ask in all sincerity, for what?"

Space Committee chairman George P. Miller, D-Calif., told Jensen the lunar landing was only a plateau in a vital program of scientific research.

Democrats beat back an attempt to kill a $3.9-million authorization for an electronics research center in the Boston area. The committee already had forbidden the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to spend any of this money until an exhaustive study is submitted on its need, but the authorization was retained in the bill.

The Senate Space Committee, reversing a previous action, voted earlier in the day to restore a $5-million authorization to start building the $50-million research center.

Voting for passage of the bill were 220 House Democrats and 114 Republicans. Opposed were 55 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Meany Backs Voluntary Rail Bargaining Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany told Congress if the public interest demands that rail workers be denied the right to strike, it's time to nationalize the railroad industry.

"I think this just naturally follows as night follows day," Meany told the House Commerce Committee on Thursday.

"This would be a sad day for America," he said.

Meany urged the committee to endorse his alternative to President Kennedy's proposal that the strike-threatening dispute over railroad work rules be turned over to the Interstate Commerce Commission for two years. During that time the ICC would be empowered to impose new work rules.

Meany urges that industry and union negotiators be sent back to the bargaining table under supervision of a congressional watchdog committee.

"This country cannot afford a nationwide railroad strike," Meany said. "It would be an economic catastrophe."

But he added that compulsory arbitration to avert a walkout would never be justified "as long as you kept the railroads under private ownership for private profit."

He said he is opposed to public ownership of the industry.

Meany urged the committee to endorse a resolution proposed by Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., to renew peace talks under congressional supervision. A similar plan has been offered in the Senate.

The railroads have set 12:01 a.m. Aug. 29 as the deadline for imposition of new manpower-trimming work rules.

Rep. Long Introduces Rail Settlement Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., introduced a resolution Thursday to encourage settlement of the railroad dispute through collective bargaining.

His bill would:

1. Direct carriers and unions to resume collective bargaining with assistance from Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and the National Mediation Service.

2. Establish a House - Senate emergency railroad committee of five members from each chamber, to receive reports every 10 days concerning bargaining.

3. Forbid the carriers and labor to make any unilateral changes in pay, rules, or working conditions, or engage in any strike or lockout until expiration of the joint resolution or superseding action by Congress.

Rein On N.Y. Job Pickets Is Tightened

Negro In Scuffle With Police After Eggs Confiscated

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders tightened the reins on Negro job demonstrators Thursday, in the aftermath of Wednesday's near riot at a Brooklyn hospital construction site. There were more than 40 arrests but no mass violence.

Heavy rain squalls swept the city off and on during the day, quelling the ardor of some of the pickets. They are demanding a halt to all publicly financed construction unless guaranteed a quota of 25 per cent Negro and Puerto Rican workmen on all building jobs.

A Negro scuffled with police at the Downstate Medical Center site in Brooklyn, after an officer confiscated a cache of eggs apparently intended as missiles. Police also climbed girders of the unfinished hospital to bring down Negro pickets who scaled them.

Officer Saves Picket

In a Manhattan demonstration, a police lieutenant grabbed a picket from in front of a moving truck, both men narrowly escaping injury or death. Pickets have consistently sought to halt construction trucks.

There were 29 arrests in Brooklyn, where pickets got out of hand Wednesday, punched and kicked police and raised a cry of "police brutality." Two pickets and two police officers suffered minor injuries.

Three children were carried away from the Downstate site Thursday, although not arrested. The Rev. William A. Jones, a Negro leader of the Brooklyn demonstration announced the establishment of a picketing school for Negro children. He said:

"Parents will take the youngsters to the center and picket leaders will teach them the methods of marching on the picket line."

60 Children Removed

Police have removed more than 60 children from the Downstate picket line since the demonstrations began July 10.

About 185 pickets were on hand in Brooklyn for Thursday's demonstration and one of their leaders, the Rev. Milton Galamison, told newsmen:

"We are experimenting with a delaying tactic where the pickets will sit and delay the trucks, then walk off. It's a matter of conscience of the individual whether he chooses to be arrested."

Employment Hits New High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's payrolls surged to another peak in July with 70.9 million employed, up 600,000 from June's record of 70.3 million.

At 4.3 million, unemployment was down 500,000 from June but this improvement was largely seasonal and the adjusted rate of joblessness remained at 5.6 per cent of the work force. This compared to 5.7 per cent in June and 5.4 in July 1962.

The Labor Department's monthly report showed the major increase in jobs came in the nonfarm classification which spurted to 64.9 million, 500,000 above June and 1.4 million ahead of July 1962.

The bulk of the June-to-July increase in jobs was among teenagers and in the 20-to-24-year bracket. Most of the increase from July 1962 was among the over-25 jobseekers.

Mothers Picket Grain Elevator, Saying Dust Makes Children Ill

DESTREHAN, La. (AP) — A group of mothers in this Mississippi River town Thursday set up a picket line at a grain elevator, complaining that grain dust is making their children sick and clogging air-conditioners.

They vowed to picket indefinitely.

Eleven women and a teen-age boy paraded along a road carrying signs. One read: "Save us from Bunge dust."

An official of the Bunge Corp. elevator said the firm has spent thousands of dollars to alleviate the dust problem but that it is impossible to get rid of all of it.

The picketing mothers live in a subdivision located along the river between the Bunge elevator and another grain facility nearing completion.

Four of the women said their houses are for sale, but thus far, there have been no buyers.

Mrs. John Negrotto, a spokesman for the mothers, said three of her children were sick because of the grain dust, which aggravates their allergies.

Harry Dolsen, superintendent of the Bunge facility, said the picketing didn't interfere with operations, "but it worries me . . . them walking along the highway out there.

"I would be glad for them to come inside and talk this thing out."

Mrs. Negrotto laughed at Dolsen's comment.

"We've tried to talk to them before. But they say, " 'Go see our legal counsel.' "

Some residents of the area filed suit last year seeking an injunction against the elevator company. The case has dragged out since then with a hearing now tentatively set for next month.

"Reverse" Job Bias Charged; Probe Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texas congressman's charge that "we now have discrimination in reverse" brought an order Thursday for a House investigation of federal hiring and promotion practices.

The probe was ordered by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee after Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., said, "Negroes are receiving preference over whites in government promotions. A very serious situation has developed all over the country."

The action came as Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told senators he would be willing to accept some modifications in the administration's civil rights program.

Under questioning by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing, Kennedy said he would have no objection to an amendment exempting some beauty shops, barber shops and swimming pools from a proposed law requiring business places to serve all races.

Ervin, who contends the proposal is unconstitutional, promptly announced he would offer such an amendment.

Ervin charged another section of the bill would permit the use of federal funds for "brainwashing."

He referred to a provision that would authorize the Office of Education to provide funds and technical assistance to help school districts solve desegregation problems and, among other things, promote "public understanding."

Ervin told reporters after the hearing recessed until probably next week that his extended questioning of Kennedy, which has occupied six straight sessions, is "not a filibuster" but "an educational debate."

The committee is considering President Kennedy's entire civil rights bill, and Ervin said he would have more questions for the attorney general when hearings resume. None of the other committee members has had a turn at questioning Kennedy yet.

The attorney general previously has testified that under the public accommodations section of the bill, beauty shops, barber shops and similar places would be covered only if their customers were interstate travelers to a "substantial degree." These would include shops in airports and railroad terminals, he suggested.

Couple Shot Down In Red 'Death Zone'

Man Slain, Woman Hurt As Tourists Watch In Horror

BERLIN (UPI) — Hundreds of foreign tourists and vacationers watched in helpless horror Thursday as East German border guards shot down a young couple trying to escape to the West near a West German summer resort.

The man, wounded in the first bursts of machinegun fire, staggered onward and managed to scramble through the first barbed wire fence on the Communist border "death zone" before a guard raced up and killed him with bullets fired at pointblank range, witnesses said.

He lay "covered with blood" on the ground for two hours before an East German ambulance drove up and took him away.

Shot In Leg

His woman companion was felled with leg wounds, according to the eyewitnesses, and was limping when she was led away by a squad of Communist soldiers.

The shooting took place near the West German resort of Hohegis in the Harz Mountains, a favorite tourist center near the border dividing East and West Germany.

When the first bursts of submachinegun fire crackled, hundreds of West German and foreign tourists on the highway only a few yards to the west of the border stopped their cars.

They watched helplessly as the man and woman ran across the open fields toward the barbed wire barricades marking the frontier between Communism and freedom. Both wore farm clothing and the man was carrying a scythe.

Reached "Death Zone"

The couple had just reached the Communist "death zone" —a plowed strip of land set up by the Reds as a preventive measure against refugees—when the burst of machinegun fire sent the woman sprawling.

Bullets struck the man, too, and he stumbled but he recovered, threw away his scythe and staggered onward.

Somehow, said eyewitness George Stein, the man managed to get over the first fence but as he tried to scramble over the second a Communist guard raced up "took dead aim" and opened fire from barely nine feet away.

Negro Move-In Peace Pleas Set

CHICAGO (AP)—Religious and community leaders and police met Thursday in an effort to prevent further disturbances that erupted for three consecutive nights after two Negro families moved into a predominantly white South Side district.

Two dozen Protestant and Catholic clergymen met at the Bethel Lutheran church in the troubled area in a session presided over by John McDermott, executive secretary of the Catholic Interracial Council.

The clergymen agreed to contact members of their congregations by personal visit and by telephone and to issue pleas from their pulpits for maintenance of order.

Capt. John Madl, chief of the police patrol division, called a separate meeting of top police officials and community leaders of both races.

The disturbances, which included fights, rock throwing and smashing of windows in a car, began Monday night after two Negro families moved into apartments in the 5600 and 5700 blocks of south Morgan street.

Ten persons were arrested Monday and 21 more, both white and Negro, were arrested Tuesday night. Four policemen were injured, including Patrolman Louis Pote, 36, who suffered a possible skull fracture in Wednesday night's disturbance.

Play Opening Will Be Televised To 5 Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. said Thursday it will present a taped television version of a play next October to audiences in five cities simultaneously with the play's opening on Broadway.

A taped version of the new play, "The Advocate," will be beamed into Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and San Francisco Oct. 13—the night the play opens on Broadway.

Ex-GI Turncoat Leaves China After 10 Years

HONG KONG (UPI)—Another former American soldier who chose Communist China over the United States after the Korean armistice 10 years ago came out from behind the Bamboo Curtain Thursday and said a fellow-turncoat may follow shortly.

Lowell D. Skinner, 32, of Akron, Ohio, crossed into Hong Kong from Communist China and said:

"It's about time to go back. My parents are getting pretty old."

Skinner was one of the 21 American prisoners of war who refused repatriation after the 1953 armistice. He said he kept in touch with the others during his years in China.

He said Scott L. Rush, of Marietta, Ohio, had indicated he might be leaving China shortly. Skinner said Rush was working as a lathe operator in the steel center of Wuhan.

In addition to Rush, seven other turncoats are living in Communist China.

Skinner, who said he spent nine years in China and married a Chinese girl in 1956, looked in good health when he crossed the Lo Wu railway bridge on the Sino-Hong Kong border.

He said he had worked as a lathe operator in Tsinan in northern China and had traveled extensively during vacations. Since last May 1, he said he had covered more than 8,000 miles and added "I'm pretty tired out."

Skinner has not been in the United States since he left for the Korean war. He was a corporal when captured by the Communists.

There were charges later that Skinner was an "informer" who had betrayed his fellow-captives and their activities.

Skinner was met at the border by representatives of the British and American Red Cross.

Linwood Starbird, an official of the U.S. Consulate General in Hong Kong, said Skinner will be issued travel documents to proceed home.

"So far as we know, he has not done any of the things that would disqualify him from American citizenship," Starbird said.

Underground Atomic Tests Will Continue

Kennedy Assumes Rights Policy Has Cost Him Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said Thursday that "yes, we will" continue nuclear weapons testing underground. At the same time he predicted ratification of a new treaty banning tests in space, in the atmosphere and under water.

In the realm of the gravest domestic crisis of the day, Kennedy said he assumes that his handling of the civil rights issue has cost him political support and prestige. But he said he expects his administration to "continue to follow the same course it has followed in the past."

The President talked about nuclear tests and civil rights at a news conference centering largely around those two topics.

Kennedy started off with an appeal to parents and others to urge children to return to school in September and stay in school in order to combat the drop-out problem.

Then the session with reporters took off into nuclear testing and civil rights and a spattering of other matters.

Mistake Not To Ratify

The first question was whether the President was concerned about ratification of the American-British-Soviet treaty banning all test but underground ones, since some Republicans and Democrats in the Senate have taken a "wait-and-see" attitude.

Kennedy said there is nothing wrong with waiting or seeing, and:

"My judgment is when the testimony is all in that this treaty will be ratified. I think it would be a great mistake not to. . . . I think it provides protection for the security interests of the United States and gives us some hope. Maybe that hope won't be realized, but some hope of moving towards a more peaceful world."

The chief executive had a positive, definite answer to a follow-up question whether he has decided to continue underground tests, as the treaty permits.

"Yes," he said. "Yes, we will."

But he was far less clear-cut a few minutes later on whether this country is considering giving France some of its nuclear weapons secrets in order that that nation might stop testing.

France Ignores Suggestion

France has displayed no desire now to come into the three-power pact, although administration officials say about three-fourths of the world's nations have indicated they approve it and about 30 have said they intend to sign.

The treaty, initialed last week, is to be signed in Moscow Monday, and the Senate must then ratify it by a two-thirds majority for it to be effective.

Kennedy did hold the door open for greater cooperation with France on nuclear matters. But he said recent suggestions produced "no response from the French government" beyond remarks of President Charles de Gaulle at a news conference of his own.

On civil rights, a newsman asked:

"There are indications lately that your policies on civil rights are costing you heavily in political prestige and popularity. Would you comment on that, and would you tell us whether civil rights are worth an election?"

"Well," Kennedy said musingly, "I assume what you say is probably right. On the other hand, this is a national crisis of great

Kennedy Praises Plebes On Naval Academy Visit

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — President Kennedy flew to Annapolis Thursday, boosted the morale of 1,245 Naval Academy plebes and then left for a dinner in Havre de Grace, Md., that could have a strong bearing on Maryland politics.

The President crammed into a 45-minute visit here a tour of the academy's museum and its famed collection of ship models, and then addressed the new class of plebes who were waiting in formation for him before marching to supper.

He praised them for their choice of military service to their country and said, "I can think of no more rewarding a career."

After leaving here, the President flew by helicopter to Havre de Grace for dinner at the home of Joseph D. Tydings, U. S. attorney for Maryland and likely candidate for the U.S. Senate next year.

Tydings, son of former U.S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings, is a longtime friend of the Kennedy family and was appointed to his present post by the President's brother, U.S. Atty Gen. Robert Kennedy.

The President, a former wartime Navy PT boat skipper and sailing enthusiast appeared to relish every minute of his visit to the Naval Academy.

He was greeted by Rear Adm. Charles C. Kirkpatrick, Naval Academy superintendent, a Marine honor guard and the academy band. After a booming 21-gun salute from the battery on Stribling Walk he started to climb in the limousine which was to take him to the museum, but instead walked across the street and began shaking hands of many in the crowd of several hundred persons on hand to see him land.

At the museum, the President viewed one of the country's finest collections of ship models, including many ancient vessels, and also inspected the variety of weapons on display.

The Labor Department's monthly report showed the major increase in jobs came in the nonfarm classification which spurted to 64.9 million, 500,000 above June and 1.4 million ahead of July 1962.

The bulk of the June-to-July increase in jobs was among teenagers and in the 20-to-24-year bracket. Most of the increase from July 1962 was among the over-25 jobseekers.

"Reverse" Job Bias Charged; Probe Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Texas congressman's charge that "we now have discrimination in reverse" brought an order Thursday for a House investigation of federal hiring and promotion practices.

The probe was ordered by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee after Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., said, "Negroes are receiving preference over whites in government promotions. A very serious situation has developed all over the country."

The action came as Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told senators he would be willing to accept some modifications in the administration's civil rights program.

Under questioning by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing, Kennedy said he would have no objection to an amendment exempting some beauty shops, barber shops and swimming pools from a proposed law requiring business places to serve all races.

Ervin, who contends the proposal is unconstitutional, promptly announced he would offer such an amendment.

Ervin charged another section of the bill would permit the use of federal funds for "brainwashing."

He referred to a provision that would authorize the Office of Education to provide funds and technical assistance to help school districts solve desegregation problems and, among other things, promote "public understanding."

Ervin told reporters after the hearing recessed until probably next week that his extended questioning of Kennedy, which has occupied six straight sessions, is "not a filibuster" but "an educational debate."

The committee is considering President Kennedy's entire civil rights bill, and Ervin said he would have more questions for the attorney general when hearings resume. None of the other committee members has had a turn at questioning Kennedy yet.

The attorney general previously has testified that under the public accommodations section of the bill, beauty shops, barber shops and similar places would be covered only if their customers were interstate travelers to a "substantial degree." These would include shops in airports and railroad terminals, he suggested.

Couple Shot Down In Red 'Death Zone'

Man Slain, Woman Hurt As Tourists Watch In Horror

BERLIN (UPI) — Hundreds of foreign tourists and vacationers watched in helpless horror Thursday as East German border guards shot down a young couple trying to escape to the West near a West German summer resort.

The man, wounded in the first bursts of machinegun fire, staggered onward and managed to scramble through the first barbed wire fence on the Communist border "death zone" before a guard raced up and killed him with bullets fired at pointblank range, witnesses said.

He lay "covered with blood" on the ground for two hours before an East German ambulance drove up and took him away.

Shot In Leg

His woman companion was felled with leg wounds, according to the eyewitnesses, and was limping when she was led away by a squad of Communist soldiers.

The shooting took place near the West German resort of Hohegis in the Harz Mountains, a favorite tourist center near the border dividing East and West Germany.

When the first bursts of submachinegun fire crackled, hundreds of West German and foreign tourists on the highway only a few yards to the west of the border stopped their cars.

They watched helplessly as the man and woman ran across the open fields toward the barbed wire barricades marking the frontier between Communism and freedom. Both wore farm clothing and the man was carrying a scythe.

Reached "Death Zone"

The couple had just reached the Communist "death zone" —a plowed strip of land set up by the Reds as a preventive measure against refugees—when the burst of machinegun fire sent the woman sprawling.

Bullets struck the man, too, and he stumbled but he recovered, threw away his scythe and staggered onward.

Somehow, said eyewitness George Stein, the man managed to get over the first fence but as he tried to scramble over the second a Communist guard raced up "took dead aim" and opened fire from barely nine feet away.

Negro Move-In Peace Pleas Set

CHICAGO (AP)—Religious and community leaders and police met Thursday in an effort to prevent further disturbances that erupted for three consecutive nights after two Negro families moved into a predominantly white South Side district.

Two dozen Protestant and Catholic clergymen met at the Bethel Lutheran church in the troubled area in a session presided over by John McDermott, executive secretary of the Catholic Interracial Council.

The clergymen agreed to contact members of their congregations by personal visit and by telephone and to issue pleas from their pulpits for maintenance of order.

Capt. John Madl, chief of the police patrol division, called a separate meeting of top police officials and community leaders of both races.

The disturbances, which included fights, rock throwing and smashing of windows in a car, began Monday night after two Negro families moved into apartments in the 5600 and 5700 blocks of south Morgan street.

Ten persons were arrested Monday and 21 more, both white and Negro, were arrested Tuesday night. Four policemen were injured, including Patrolman Louis Pote, 36, who suffered a possible skull fracture in Wednesday night's disturbance.

CHANGES MIND — Former U.S. Army Cpl. Lowell D. Skinner (above), of Akron, Ohio, who defected from a prisoner of war camp after the Korean war, arrived in Hong Kong from Communist China yesterday on his way home. Now 32, Skinner said on crossing the border: "It's about time to go back, and my parents are getting old." Ex-GI Turncoat Leaves China After 10 Years

HONG KONG (UPI)—Another former American soldier who chose Communist China over the United States after the Korean armistice 10 years ago came out from behind the Bamboo Curtain Thursday and said a fellow-turncoat may follow shortly.

Lowell D. Skinner, 32, of Akron, Ohio, crossed into Hong Kong from Communist China and said:

"It's about time to go back. My parents are getting pretty old."

Skinner was one of the 21 American prisoners of war who refused repatriation after the 1953 armistice. He said he kept in touch with the others during his years in China.

He said Scott L. Rush, of Marietta, Ohio, had indicated he might be leaving China shortly. Skinner said Rush was working as a lathe operator in the steel center of Wuhan.

In addition to Rush, seven other turncoats are living in Communist China.

Skinner, who said he spent nine years in China and married a Chinese girl in 1956, looked in good health when he crossed the Lo Wu railway bridge on the Sino-Hong Kong border.

He said he had worked as a lathe operator in Tsinan in northern China and had traveled extensively during vacations. Since last May 1, he said he had covered more than 8,000 miles and added "I'm pretty tired out."

Skinner has not been in the United States since he left for the Korean war. He was a corporal when captured by the Communists.

There were charges later that Skinner was an "informer" who had betrayed his fellow-captives and their activities.

Skinner was met at the border by representatives of the British and American Red Cross.

Linwood Starbird, an official of the U.S. Consulate General in Hong Kong, said Skinner will be issued travel documents to proceed home.

"So far as we know, he has not done any of the things that would disqualify him from American citizenship," Starbird said.

Underground Atomic Tests Will Continue

Kennedy Assumes Rights Policy Has Cost Him Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said Thursday that "yes, we will" continue nuclear weapons testing underground. At the same time he predicted ratification of a new treaty banning tests in space, in the atmosphere and under water.

In the realm of the gravest domestic crisis of the day, Kennedy said he assumes that his handling of the civil rights issue has cost him political support and prestige. But he said he expects his administration to "continue to follow the same course it has followed in the past."

The President talked about nuclear tests and civil rights at a news conference centering largely around those two topics.

Kennedy started off with an appeal to parents and others to urge children to return to school in September and stay in school in order to combat the drop-out problem.

Then the session with reporters took off into nuclear testing and civil rights and a spattering of other matters.

Mistake Not To Ratify

The first question was whether the President was concerned about ratification of the American-British-Soviet treaty banning all test but underground ones, since some Republicans and Democrats in the Senate have taken a "wait-and-see" attitude.

Kennedy said there is nothing wrong with waiting or seeing, and:

"My judgment is when the testimony is all in that this treaty will be ratified. I think it would be a great mistake not to. . . . I think it provides protection for the security interests of the United States and gives us some hope. Maybe that hope won't be realized, but some hope of moving towards a more peaceful world."

The chief executive had a positive, definite answer to a follow-up question whether he has decided to continue underground tests, as the treaty permits.

"Yes," he said. "Yes, we will."

But he was far less clear-cut a few minutes later on whether this country is considering giving France some of its nuclear weapons secrets in order that that nation might stop testing.

France Ignores Suggestion

France has displayed no desire now to come into the three-power pact, although administration officials say about three-fourths of the world's nations have indicated they approve it and about 30 have said they intend to sign.

The treaty, initialed last week, is to be signed in Moscow Monday, and the Senate must then ratify it by a two-thirds majority for it to be effective.

Kennedy did hold the door open for greater cooperation with France on nuclear matters. But he said recent suggestions produced "no response from the French government" beyond remarks of President Charles de Gaulle at a news conference of his own.

On civil rights, a newsman asked:

"There are indications lately that your policies on civil rights are costing you heavily in political prestige and popularity. Would you comment on that, and would you tell us whether civil rights are worth an election?"

"Well," Kennedy said musingly, "I assume what you say is probably right. On the other hand, this is a national crisis of great

House Votes $5.2 Billion For Space Exploration

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only a few dissenting voices raised, the House voted Thursday to authorize some $5.2 billion for space exploration this year. The roll call vote was 334 to 57.

The amount was about $1.5 billion over last year's budget and three times the 1961 amount. But it was $500 million less than the administration had asked.

Only Rep. Ben Jensen, R-Iowa, spoke out against the idea of landing a man on the moon, the space program's goal by the end of this decade.

"For what?" Jensen asked. "I ask in all sincerity, for what?"

Space Committee chairman George P. Miller, D-Calif., told Jensen the lunar landing was only a plateau in a vital program of scientific research.

Democrats beat back an attempt to kill a $3.9-million authorization for an electronics research center in the Boston area. The committee already had forbidden the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to spend any of this money until an exhaustive study is submitted on its need, but the authorization was retained in the bill.

The Senate Space Committee, reversing a previous action, voted earlier in the day to restore a $5-million authorization to start building the $50-million research center.

Voting for passage of the bill were 220 House Democrats and 114 Republicans. Opposed were 55 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Rep. Long Introduces Rail Settlement Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., introduced a resolution Thursday to encourage settlement of the railroad dispute through collective bargaining.

His bill would:

1. Direct carriers and unions to resume collective bargaining with assistance from Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and the National Mediation Service.

2. Establish a House - Senate emergency railroad committee of five members from each chamber, to receive reports every 10 days concerning bargaining.

3. Forbid the carriers and labor to make any unilateral changes in pay, rules, or working conditions, or engage in any strike or lockout until expiration of the joint resolution or superseding action by Congress.

Mothers Picket Grain Elevator, Saying Dust Makes Children Ill

DESTREHAN, La. (AP) — A group of mothers in this Mississippi River town Thursday set up a picket line at a grain elevator, complaining that grain dust is making their children sick and clogging air-conditioners.

They vowed to picket indefinitely.

Eleven women and a teen-age boy paraded along a road carrying signs. One read: "Save us from Bunge dust."

An official of the Bunge Corp. elevator said the firm has spent thousands of dollars to alleviate the dust problem but that it is impossible to get rid of all of it.

The picketing mothers live in a subdivision located along the river between the Bunge elevator and another grain facility nearing completion.

Four of the women said their houses are for sale, but thus far, there have been no buyers.

Mrs. John Negrotto, a spokesman for the mothers, said three of her children were sick because of the grain dust, which aggravates their allergies.

Harry Dolsen, superintendent of the Bunge facility, said the picketing didn't interfere with operations, "but it worries me . . . them walking along the highway out there.

"I would be glad for them to come inside and talk this thing out."

Mrs. Negrotto laughed at Dolsen's comment.

"We've tried to talk to them before. But they say, " 'Go see our legal counsel.' "

Some residents of the area filed suit last year seeking an injunction against the elevator company. The case has dragged out since then with a hearing now tentatively set for next month.

NEW YORK (AP) — Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. said Thursday it will present a taped television version of a play next October to audiences in five cities simultaneously with the play's opening on Broadway.

A taped version of the new play, "The Advocate," will be beamed into Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and San Francisco Oct. 13—the night the play opens on Broadway.

Kennedy Praises Plebes On Naval Academy Visit

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — President Kennedy flew to Annapolis Thursday, boosted the morale of 1,245 Naval Academy plebes and then left for a dinner in Havre de Grace, Md., that could have a strong bearing on Maryland politics.

The President crammed into a 45-minute visit here a tour of the academy's museum and its famed collection of ship models, and then addressed the new class of plebes who were waiting in formation for him before marching to supper.

He praised them for their choice of military service to their country and said, "I can think of no more rewarding a career."

After leaving here, the President flew by helicopter to Havre de Grace for dinner at the home of Joseph D. Tydings, U. S. attorney for Maryland and likely candidate for the U.S. Senate next year.

Tydings, son of former U.S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings, is a longtime friend of the Kennedy family and was appointed to his present post by the President's brother, U.S. Atty Gen. Robert Kennedy.

The President, a former wartime Navy PT boat skipper and sailing enthusiast appeared to relish every minute of his visit to the Naval Academy.

He was greeted by Rear Adm. Charles C. Kirkpatrick, Naval Academy superintendent, a Marine honor guard and the academy band. After a booming 21-gun salute from the battery on Stribling Walk he started to climb in the limousine which was to take him to the museum, but instead walked across the street and began shaking hands of many in the crowd of several hundred persons on hand to see him land.

At the museum, the President viewed one of the country's finest collections of ship models, including many ancient vessels, and also inspected the variety of weapons on display.

Adm. McDonald Replaces Anderson As Navy Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. David L. McDonald took command of the Navy with the ceremonial 19-gun salutes, bands, flag exchanges, speeches and reading of orders Thursday.

The change of command saw McDonald's friend, Adm. George W. Anderson, conclude a 40-year naval career and head for a diplomatic assignment as ambassador to Portugal.

The new chief and the retiring one spoke briefly after Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth had praised both.

All three steered clear of any mention of the decision that brought about the ceremonial change of command.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara decided against recommending to President Kennedy appointment of Anderson, 56, to a second term.

There was speculation that McNamara made his decision because he was displeased with Anderson's criticism of the Pentagon decision in award of a contract for the TFX warplane. The admiral testified before Senate probers.

But the official explanation given was that most chiefs have served only one term.

Anderson thanked all of the men who had served with him and under him in his 40 years.

The Navy uniform, said Anderson, appeals to boys everywhere, "boys from Georgia and from New York." This alluded to McDonald's Maysville, Ga., origin, and his own birthplace in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Victor Cullen Will Continue As TB Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP)—Victor Cullen State Hospital will continue as a treatment center for tuberculosis victims, at least for the time being, the Maryland Board of Public Works decided Thursday.

The State Department of Health had suggested that the Frederick County facility be phased out of existence by Jan. 1, 1965, because a statistical projection showed a declining rate of tuberculosis would make the hospital unnecessary by that time.

The health department suggested the Sabillasville institution be converted into a training school for older boys, and the 1961 General Assembly authorized $363,500 as the first stage toward making the conversion.

At a meeting with the Board of Public Works Thursday, Sen. George E. Snyder, D-Washington, head of a Legislative Council subcommittee styding the matter, said he wasn't convinced that the hospital should be discontinued.

Del. William Houck, D-Frederick, questioned the health department statistics. He won support from Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, who along with Gov. Tawes and State Treasurer John A. Luetkemeyer comprise the Board of Public Works.

In order to keep the 1961 bond authorization from expiring this year, the board on May 9 authorized that $42,000 of it be used for major repairs to an annex of the hospital—which could be used to house boys nearing release from the Maryland Training School for Boys.

However, the board did not take any formal action to transfer the facility to the Department of Public Welfare, which operates training schools.

Goldstein opposed the May 9 action, contending a public hearing should be held first.

Mounties Smash Canada Dope Ring

TORONTO, Ont. (UPI) —Royal Canadian Mounted Police Thursday smashed what they said was one of the largest narcotics trafficking rings in Canada, arresting 12 persons and seizing $100,000 worth of heroin.

Ten persons were arrested in raids Wednesday night in Toronto, Brampton and Guelph and two more persons were picked up Thursday morning. The suspects were to appear in court here on charges of conspiracy to traffic in narcotics and possession of narcotics for the purpose of trafficking.

proportions. I am confident that whoever was president would meet his responsibilities. Crises come in different forms.

"I don't think anyone would have anticipated the exact form of this particular crisis. Maybe last winter we were dealing with other matters. But I think it has come and we are going to deal with it.

"My judgment is that both political parties finally will come to the same conclusion, and that is that every effort should be made to protect the rights of all of our citizens, and advance their right to equality of opportunity."

Kennedy said "we just have to wait and see what political effect" will come from efforts in that direction but that he expects his administration to continue on its present course.

Cuba figured in the conference earlier when Kennedy was asked a double-barreled question whether he feels relaxation of cold war tensions resulting from the test ban treaty might affect U.S.-Cuban relations and whether the United States might act against American students visiting Cuba.

Kennedy said there can be no prediction of the next step in easing tensions and "I don't think we should cut our defense budgets," although we should "pursue the next step, and the next step."

Those students, he said, are going to have their passports lifted when they come back home, and other steps may be considered against a few he said "are not students but who are Communists."

"Some of the leadership, it seems to me, are definitely Communists," he said. "The journey was paid for in cash by the Cuban government."

Kennedy said he didn't think we could make a judgment now as to whether events will prove that "a turn for the worse" has been taken in Asia, with the stepped up activities of the Red Chinese. He said that the United States has lived with danger for years in Asia.

Mariner Makes First Solar Orbit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Mariner 2 Venus probe completed its first orbit of the sun Thursday.

The spacecraft, launched Aug. 27, 1962, from Cape Canaveral, traveled about 540 million miles to achieve its first solar circuit.

As of Thursday, Mariner 2 was 47 million miles in straight line distance from the earth. It passed within 21,648 miles of Venus Dec. 14, 1962.

Its instruments reported that Venus' surface temperature is 800 degrees, hotter than the boiling point of lead; that the cloud top temperature of the perpetually shrouded planet varies from 30 to 70 degrees below zero; and that the clouds begin at 40 miles above the Venusian surface and extend out to 60 miles.

Mariner is now racing at 54,200 miles an hour relative to the sun. Its year, the period of one orbit around the sun, is 346 days.

Senate Group Votes Health Center Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Thursday $1,441,000 for a federal environmental health center and specified that it be built at Beltsville, Md.

The site, near Washington, is one for which the Public Health Service has expressed a preference. Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze also has recommended Beltsville as the site.

North Carolina, Maryland, Ohio and West Virginia have put in bids for the installation.

The Public Health Service, under whose jurisdiction the center would be operated, has favored locating it in or near the District of Columbia. It recommended sites in Maryland, including one in Montgomery County and the other at Beltsville.

Assateague Hearing Set

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Board of Public Works announced Thursday that a public hearing on the future development of Assateague Island will be held in Baltimore Aug. 15.

The board said special notifications of the 2 p.m. meeting would be sent to property owners, members of the General Assembly, the Worcester County commissioners, representatives of the U.S. Department of the Interior, and state agencies involved in the development of the island.

After the public hearing, a final state decision will be made on whether to support plans for public development of the 26-mile sand spit off the Worcester County coast.

The interior department wants to purchase the island and turn it into a national seashore park, except for the northern portion which Maryland would keep for a state park.

Reds Charge War Plot But Korea 'Front' Quiet

U. S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION SECTOR, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea fired a propaganda broadside Thursday at the United States, accusing it of plots to provoke war.

But all was quiet along the armistice front where three Americans and four North Koreans died in patrol clashes Monday and Tuesday.

Brig. Gen. Charles Pershing Brown of McAlester, Okla., acting commander of the 1st Cavalry Division, expected the lull to continue.

"I think the Communists will be quiet now, at least until after the next meeting at Panmunjom," Brown said.

Panmunjom is the truce center where Communist officers and representatives of the United Nations Command wrangle over incidents stemming from a war that officially ended 10 years ago.

The U.N. Command called for an armstice commission meeting. The Communists demurred and proposed that the commission meet Saturday. Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, chief spokesman of the U.N. side may reply to that Friday.

Patrols ranging along the 18½-mile front searching for infiltrators didn't exchange fire with anyone Wednesday or Thursday, Brown said.

North Korea's Foreign Ministry, in an anti-American broadcast from Pyongyang, accused the State Department of "trying to cover up the criminal nature of U.S. imperialism in South Korea and to justify the long-term occupation of South Korea by the U.S. Army."

"By playing up the nonexistent threat from the North," it said, "the U.S. imperialists are foolishly trying to camouflage the war provocation plots they are hatching in the South."

Is it proper to call for Gordon's by name in English Pubs?

It's not a matter of being proper. It's unnecessary. For when most Englishmen ask for gin, they expect to get Gordon's. After all, its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour have been a part of English life for 194 years. Americans, however, have been enjoying Gordon's for a somewhat shorter span of time. So it is wise (and proper) to specify Gordon's by name. Your first sip of a Gordon's martini will tell you why it's the biggest selling gin over here as well as in England and the rest of the world.

After all, its distinctive dryness and delicate flavour have been a part of English life for 194 years. Americans, however, have been enjoying Gordon's for a somewhat shorter span of time. So it is wise (and proper) to specify Gordon's by name. Your first sip of a Gordon's martini will tell you why it's the biggest selling gin over here as well as in England and the rest of the world.

Mounties Smash Canada Dope Ring

TORONTO, Ont. (UPI) —Royal Canadian Mounted Police Thursday smashed what they said was one of the largest narcotics trafficking rings in Canada, arresting 12 persons and seizing $100,000 worth of heroin.

Ten persons were arrested in raids Wednesday night in Toronto, Brampton and Guelph and two more persons were picked up Thursday morning. The suspects were to appear in court here on charges of conspiracy to traffic in narcotics and possession of narcotics for the purpose of trafficking.

proportions. I am confident that whoever was president would meet his responsibilities. Crises come in different forms.

"I don't think anyone would have anticipated the exact form of this particular crisis. Maybe last winter we were dealing with other matters. But I think it has come and we are going to deal with it.

"My judgment is that both political parties finally will come to the same conclusion, and that is that every effort should be made to protect the rights of all of our citizens, and advance their right to equality of opportunity."

Kennedy said "we just have to wait and see what political effect" will come from efforts in that direction but that he expects his administration to continue on its present course.

Cuba figured in the conference earlier when Kennedy was asked a double-barreled question whether he feels relaxation of cold war tensions resulting from the test ban treaty might affect U.S.-Cuban relations and whether the United States might act against American students visiting Cuba.

Kennedy said there can be no prediction of the next step in easing tensions and "I don't think we should cut our defense budgets," although we should "pursue the next step, and the next step."

Those students, he said, are going to have their passports lifted when they come back home, and other steps may be considered against a few he said "are not students but who are Communists."

"Some of the leadership, it seems to me, are definitely Communists," he said. "The journey was paid for in cash by the Cuban government."

Kennedy said he didn't think we could make a judgment now as to whether events will prove that "a turn for the worse" has been taken in Asia, with the stepped up activities of the Red Chinese. He said that the United States has lived with danger for years in Asia.

Mariner Makes First Solar Orbit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Mariner 2 Venus probe completed its first orbit of the sun Thursday.

The spacecraft, launched Aug. 27, 1962, from Cape Canaveral, traveled about 540 million miles to achieve its first solar circuit.

As of Thursday, Mariner 2 was 47 million miles in straight line distance from the earth. It passed within 21,648 miles of Venus Dec. 14, 1962.

Its instruments reported that Venus' surface temperature is 800 degrees, hotter than the boiling point of lead; that the cloud top temperature of the perpetually shrouded planet varies from 30 to 70 degrees below zero; and that the clouds begin at 40 miles above the Venusian surface and extend out to 60 miles.

Mariner is now racing at 54,200 miles an hour relative to the sun. Its year, the period of one orbit around the sun, is 346 days.

Senate Group Votes Health Center Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Thursday $1,441,000 for a federal environmental health center and specified that it be built at Beltsville, Md.

The site, near Washington, is one for which the Public Health Service has expressed a preference. Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze also has recommended Beltsville as the site.

North Carolina, Maryland, Ohio and West Virginia have put in bids for the installation.

The Public Health Service, under whose jurisdiction the center would be operated, has favored locating it in or near the District of Columbia. It recommended sites in Maryland, including one in Montgomery County and the other at Beltsville.

Assateague Hearing Set

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Board of Public Works announced Thursday that a public hearing on the future development of Assateague Island will be held in Baltimore Aug. 15.

The board said special notifications of the 2 p.m. meeting would be sent to property owners, members of the General Assembly, the Worcester County commissioners, representatives of the U.S. Department of the Interior, and state agencies involved in the development of the island.

After the public hearing, a final state decision will be made on whether to support plans for public development of the 26-mile sand spit off the Worcester County coast.

The interior department wants to purchase the island and turn it into a national seashore park, except for the northern portion which Maryland would keep for a state park.

Reds Charge War Plot But Korea 'Front' Quiet

U. S. 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION SECTOR, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea fired a propaganda broadside Thursday at the United States, accusing it of plots to provoke war.

But all was quiet along the armistice front where three Americans and four North Koreans died in patrol clashes Monday and Tuesday.

Brig. Gen. Charles Pershing Brown of McAlester, Okla., acting commander of the 1st Cavalry Division, expected the lull to continue.

"I think the Communists will be quiet now, at least until after the next meeting at Panmunjom," Brown said.

Panmunjom is the truce center where Communist officers and representatives of the United Nations Command wrangle over incidents stemming from a war that officially ended 10 years ago.

The U.N. Command called for an armstice commission meeting. The Communists demurred and proposed that the commission meet Saturday. Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, chief spokesman of the U.N. side may reply to that Friday.

Patrols ranging along the 18½-mile front searching for infiltrators didn't exchange fire with anyone Wednesday or Thursday, Brown said.

North Korea's Foreign Ministry, in an anti-American broadcast from Pyongyang, accused the State Department of "trying to cover up the criminal nature of U.S. imperialism in South Korea and to justify the long-term occupation of South Korea by the U.S. Army."

"By playing up the nonexistent threat from the North," it said, "the U.S. imperialists are foolishly trying to camouflage the war provocation plots they are hatching in the South."

Pay TV, One Year Old, Short Of Expectations

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The nation's first large-scale test of pay television is now a year old and its mentors are officially pleased.

The experimenters acknowledge that first-run films still are not available for the pay television subscribers.

And the announced goal of some 5,000 subscribers within a year has fallen short by about 2,000.

Fire Sweeps Restaurant At Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Firemen escorted by a National Guard riot squad Wednesday unsuccessfully battled flames sweeping a downtown Cambridge restaurant.

The place, operated by James Gabriel, a leader in the petition movement to block desegregation of public accommodations here, was destroyed.

Officials said they believed there was no link between the fire and the months-long controversy over the local integration movement.

"I believe this has no connection with the racial problem," said Police Chief Brice Kinnamon, who is also president of the fire rescue company.

Guardsmen, who have been stationed here for most of the last six weeks because of racial violence, were sent with firemen primarily as a crowd-control measure, officials said.

There was no disorder among spectators at the scene of the fire in the one-story, cinder block building.

Kinnamon said the blaze apparently started near an exhaust fan in the kitchen at the rear of the restaurant.

A furniture store on one side of the restaurant and a variety store on the other apparently escaped serious damage, he said.

Two firemen suffered smoke inhalation, one of them seriously enough to be taken to Cambridge-Maryland Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Gabriel estimated the damage at $40,000 to $50,000. He said he planned to reopen his business, possibly at a new location near the Race Street site of the destroyed place.

A former Baltimorean, Gabriel came to Cambridge three years ago.

He has been active in a campaign to round up enough signatures for a public vote on a town-charter amendment which would prohibit segregation in places of public accommodations.

Unless signatures from 20 per cent of the town's 4,000 or so are obtained on the referendum petition by Aug. 9, the amendment will go into effect Aug. 20.

Corsets were first introduced in France about the time of the French Revolution.

No Racial Bias Pledged At Md. Fair Exhibit

BALTIMORE (AP)—One group of Maryland officials asked another group Thursday for an assurance that the state's exhibit at the New York World Fair would be operated on an integrated basis. The assurance was given.

There will be no racial discrimination at the Maryland restaurant and exhibit opening at the fair next April, said the executive committee of the Maryland Commission, New York World Fair.

Parren J. Mitchell, executive director of the Maryland Commission on Interracial Relations and Problems, had gone before the fair committee to inquire about the project.

He asked how many Negroes the committee expected to employ on construction of the $460,000 Maryland building and in the operation of its restaurant, gift shop and exhibit section.

Robert Filliettaz, executive secretary of the committee, said his group still was planning details of staffing the Maryland section of the fair and would supply figures on Negro personnel as soon as they became available. But he said the committee planned an entirely integrated operation.

14 Sought In Barber License Scandal

BALTIMORE (AP) — Fourteen more persons were being sought Thursday on grand jury charges involving trafficking in barbers' licenses.

Vincent A. Cinquegrani, 72-year-old president of the Maryland Board of Barber Examiners, posted $7,500 bail earlier in the day on 21 charges returned by a Baltimore grand jury.

He was accused on eight counts of bribery, 12 of conspiracy and one of malfeasance.

Robert Joseph Maissoneuve, 32, of Elkridge, Md., posted $2,000 bail on four charges, including one of offering a bribe to Cinquegrani.

Cinquegrani and Maissoneuve were among 16 persons named in 29 presentments containing 65 charges.

The names of the others were withheld pending efforts to arrest them. At least five of the defendants were described as non-Marylanders and a sixth was reported missing from his home in Maryland.

Maryland News In Brief

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — The Prince Georges County chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality announced Thursday it will conduct an antisegregation demonstration at the Belair housing development in Bowie on Saturday.

Picket lines will be set up at sales offices and model homes, the announcement said.

CORE said the developer of Belair, Levitt & Sons, Inc., refuses to sell homes to Negroes.

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — A 14-year-old girl tending her mother's downtown clothing shop reported a gunman robbed her of $50 Thursday.

Police said young Karen Adams, daughter of Mrs. John T. Adams, told them a young bandit ordered her into a back room, took the money and fled. She was not harmed.

She described the gunman as a Negro, 18 to 20, about 5-feet-7 and wearing a dark blue T-shirt, dark pants. She said he wore a maroon scarf over his face.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Arraignment in federal court on Aug. 30 has been set for two Baltimore cabaret owners charged with tax evasion and gambling tax stamp violations.

The date was set for Julius Salsbury, 47, owner of the Oasis and Harry's Corral, and Louis N. Comi, 58, operator of the Gay Ninety Club.

Salsbury was indicted April 5 on a charge of failing to pay $13,680 in music box and cabaret taxes. Comi was charged with accepting gambling bets.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A Johns Hopkins University professor is chairman of a committee named by Gov. Tawes to explore the problem of detergents in Maryland streams.

Dr. Charles E. Renn, professor of sanitary engineering at Hopkins, is the chairman of the eight-member group which includes Joseph M. Manning, director of the Department of Tidewater Fisheries.

The 1963 General Assembly asked appointment of the committee, saying that the discharge of detergent wastes from homes, industries and other users "constitutes a serious and increasing water pollution hazard."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., says the accelerated public works program is costing Maryland and Delaware five times as much as they receive in aid and it should be abolished.

In a Senate speech, Williams called the program a boondoggle and a political pork barrel, and said: "The moral of this story is that you cannot get something for nothing from Washington."

Williams said Delaware received $368,000 from the program as of June 1, but its tax share for the grants was $2,024,000. He listed comparable figures for Marland as $1,493,000 and $7,552,000.

But did you see some cars stalled along the road as you hummed by?

Might have been you, before you switched to No-Nox. Before you learned that heat can vaporize gasoline in your car's fuel system, to lock off the flow to your engine.

You can depend on No-Nox, Gulf's premium gasoline, because it's blended to fit the season. In hot weather its volatility is reduced, to prevent vapor-lock. So always fill up with No-Nox at the sign of the Orange Disc.

NO-NOX GASOLINE

Secrets Of Charm

Lip Service

For a soft, interesting lipline, use two complementary shades of lipstick—dark and light. Outline your mouth with the dark shade. Then fill in with the lighter hue. Men will be fascinated, and women will ask you the brand name of the lipstick you're wearing. And, the best part of all . . . no one will be able to guess your secret.

Be sure and have your mouth absolutely dry of all moisture when you apply your lipstick. Always use a lip brush to apply lipstick. Outline the lip first—the highest point of the lip, which is directly under the nostril. Then draw out to the corner of the lip on one side, then from the center out to the other corner. Keep the mouth in a relaxed, normal position (never open) as you outline this upper lip. Then when you are ready to fill in the color, open the lips and apply the color with left to right strokes. To get an equal fullness on the lower lip, roll the upper lip on it and blot off the surplus lipstick by biting down on absorbent tissue. You should repeat this until you see no mark of lipstick on the tissue.

CALCULATE COLOR SCHEMES to flatter your complexion and fascinate your escort with the "Personal Colorscope" found only in the booklet, "Your Color Type." To get your copy, send 10c along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to John Robert Powers in care of this newspaper.

Junior Civic Club Picnic Tomorrow

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: How dare you call my child a vegetable just because he refuses to go to camp? Did it ever occur to you that some children love their home and hate to leave it? And what's wrong with keeping kids home as long as possible? They grow up and leave too soon as it is.

My Vincent is a bright, sensitive, well-adjusted boy. We sent him to camp three years ago when he was 10. After two days he telephoned and asked me to come get him. Of course I brought him home at once since I saw no point in forcing camp on a child whose personality rebelled against discipline. Vincent never was one to follow orders like sheep.

I can tell by your writing, Ann Landers, that you have the mentality of a WAC sergeant. You like to boss people, order them around and impose your will on everybody. I'm raising my Vincent to be an independent thinker and a free soul in a free society. So phooey on you and your military approach to child rearing.

—MRS. B. B.

DEAR MRS. B. B.: No free society would be free for long without discipline. I hope your Vincent understands that the freedom to swing his arms ends where the other fellow's nose begins.

The youngster who calls home after two days and blubbers, "Ma, come and get me," is the very one who should stay there. He needs to learn how to live with other children, and to take orders. He should understand, too, that taking orders is essential training for living in a world where nobody can do whatever he pleases, when and if he darned well feels like it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please don't give me the devil for being nosey, just tell me what to do now that I have snooped into my husband's wallet and found $350 in cash.

He didn't buy me an anniversary present last week, which I thought was very tacky of him since he bought his mother a set of dishes for her birthday. I got curious about how much money he carried when I saw him shell out $55 in cash for those dishes—so I looked.

Should I tell him what I know and take my chances on him blowing his cork because I snooped? Please guide me.

—SUGAR PUSS

DEAR SUGAR: Tell him and face the music. It will be worth a few sour notes if you can get the man to bank his money instead of carrying it around in his wallet — like a fool.

Money in the bank is protected against theft, loss and fire. It also acumulates interest.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This girl whom I will call Grace has no friends of her own so she tries to take over mine.

Grace and I work in the same office. Every day I have lunch with one or two girls who work in this building. On Monday I plan my week's lunches and they are set.

About four days a week Grace spots me in the restaurant with my friends, comes right over and says "Mind if I join you?" Without waiting for an answer she moves right in.

She monopolizes the conversation and gives me indigestion. Is there a solution, short of being brutally frank and saying, "No, you can't join us — this is a private party"?

—BICARB BETTY

DEAR BICARB: Probably not. Insensitive clods rarely respond to hints. I can't improve on your answer, Betty. Go ahead and use it.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	4 ♠	5 ♡	Pass
6 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

West's preëmptive activities were not enough to keep his opponents out of a slam in today's hand, but the prize eluded declarer's grasp when he failed to take proper precautions against the distributional adversities indicated by the bidding.

West's jump to four spades placed considerable pressure on North. However, he was unwilling to be shut out altogether, so he competed with a raise to five hearts. Since a scientific exchange of information was impossible, South's bid of six hearts was something of a stab—but this is the price that must on occasions be paid to the preemptive bidder.

West opened the king of spades and continued with the ace which declarer ruffed with the five of hearts. South decided to test trumps first by leading a small heart to dummy's jack. When West showed out, hearts were temporarily abandoned and attention was shifted to the club suit.

A club was led to the ace but, when West failed to answer the call on the second round, South found himself confronted with a transportation muddle that he could not untangle. While it was possible to establish the club suit by cashing North's top honors and then ruffing out East's jack with the seven of hearts, the trump suit was hopelessly blocked. Declarer was down to the lone ace-queen of hearts and could not afford to overtake his queen with North's king or else a trump trick would be established for East. He tried instead to ruff a diamond in dummy with a small trump, but East overruffed for the setting trick.

South admittedly ran into some very bad breaks, but the bidding should have served as a clear warning. West's preemptive bid marks him with a great many spades, and he is apt to be quite short in the other suits. Furthermore, inasmuch as South plans to establish dummy's club suit, he must preserve North's heart honors for trump drawing purposes.

It is recommended that he play the ace of hearts from his hand at trick three. Now when West shows out, South must test the club suit before playing any more trumps. The ace and king of clubs are cashed and, when West fails again, the suit is established by ruffing out the fourth round. Declarer is left with the queen-seven of hearts. He can now draw trumps ending up in the dummy to cash the good club.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	4 ♠	5 ♡	Pass
6 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

West's preëmptive activities were not enough to keep his opponents out of a slam in today's hand, but the prize eluded declarer's grasp when he failed to take proper precautions against the distributional adversities indicated by the bidding.

West's jump to four spades placed considerable pressure on North. However, he was unwilling to be shut out altogether, so he competed with a raise to five hearts. Since a scientific exchange of information was impossible, South's bid of six hearts was something of a stab—but this is the price that must on occasions be paid to the preëmptive bidder.

West opened the king of spades and continued with the ace which declarer ruffed with the five of hearts. South decided to test trumps first by leading a small heart to dummy's jack. When West showed out, hearts were temporarily abandoned and attention was shifted to the club suit.

A club was led to the ace but, when West failed to answer the call on the second round, South found himself confronted with a transportation muddle that he could not untangle. While it was possible to establish the club suit by cashing North's top honors and then ruffing out East's jack with the seven of hearts, the trump suit was hopelessly blocked. Declarer was down to the lone ace-queen of hearts and could not afford to overtake his queen with North's king or else a trump trick would be established for East. He tried instead to ruff a diamond in dummy with a small trump, but East overruffed for the setting trick.

South admittedly ran into some very bad breaks, but the bidding should have served as a clear warning. West's preemptive bid marks him with a great many spades, and he is apt to be quite short in the other suits. Furthermore, inasmuch as South plans to establish dummy's club suit, he must preserve North's heart honors for trump drawing purposes.

It is recommended that he play the ace of hearts from his hand at trick three. Now when West shows out, South must test the club suit before playing any more trumps. The ace and king of clubs are cashed and, when West fails again, the suit is established by ruffing out the fourth round. Declarer is left with the queen-seven of hearts. He can now draw trumps ending up in the dummy to cash the good club.

Bill To Create Office Introduced By Mathias

A bill to create an Office of Community Development in the Executive Office of the President has been introduced by Rep. Charles M. Mathias Jr. and six other Republican members of the House of Representatives.

Suggested as a sub-Cabinet level agency, the OCD would serve as a clearinghouse for programs and research by the Federal Government on urban affairs, and would work closely with state and local agencies in such areas as housing, urban renewal, water and air pollution and transportation.

In introducing the bill, Mathias said, "There is a great need to coordinate the many and varied programs of community development as proposed by state and local agencies. With the Federal Government exerting a unifying influence, great benefits and growth will accrue to communities of all sizes."

The type of paper we use today dates back to about the 10th century.

Recruiter Plans Visit To City

Chief R. N. Cumpston from the Coast Guard recruiting office in Pittsburgh will be in Cumberland next Thursday and Friday to accept applications from young men between the ages of 17 and 26 years for service with the nation's oldest seagoing service.

Chief Cumpston, who will be located on the third floor of the Cumberland Post Office, said all men qualifying for Coast Guard standards will be sent to Pittsburgh for physical examinations and enlistments.

Every day in the week is set apart, by some people, as the Sabbath.

Post Office Official Is Native Of State

The Post Office Department official who will officiate at the installation and obligation of William B. Orndorff as acting postmaster for Cumberland is a native Marylander.

He is Howard Lee Cook Jr., assistant to the executive assistant to the postmaster general of the United States. He formerly was clerk to the Montgomery County Council and has an extensive background in handling legislative matters as well as in government administration. He is a graduate of the University of Maryland.

Since joining the Post Office Department in February, Cook has been assigned to the assistant postmaster general for operations. He resides in Montgomery County with his wife and two daughters.

When Christopher Columbus discovered Puerto Rico, he called it San Juan Baptista (St. John the Baptist).

Dr. W. M. Holmes Appointed To Direct FSC Teacher Education Division

Dr. Wayne Meredith Holmes, has been appointed to head the teacher education division of Frostburg State College, R. Bowen Hardesty, president, said yesterday.

Dr. Holmes earned his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Connecticut. His undergraduate work was in biology, German and English at Hamilton College and Springfield College.

His duties at Frostburg State will include administration and supervision of the Thomas G. Pullen School, the college laboratory school, along with the psychology, education, and the health and physical education departments. He will also supervise graduate work, Hardesty said.

Dr. Holmes served in the Army from 1941 to 1946 and in the active reserve from 1946 to 1953. His Army experience includes position of adjutant in the information and education office for the Army in Washington.

Other positions have been production controller for Anchorage Homes in Westfield, Mass.; chemical analyist for Monsanto Chemical Company, and administrative assistant for the 104th Infantry Regiment, Massachusetts National Guard.

Dr. Holmes is a member of the Kiwanis Club and for two years was national president of Phi Delta Kappa, a fraternity for scholars.

He is a native of Cooperstown, N. Y., and resides in Westfield with his family. He has been professor of education at Westfield State College, and several months ago was one of the two educators seriously considered by the Board of Trustees of Westfield College for appointment as president of that institution.

Mrs. Holmes is guidance counselor in Westfield schools. Their daughter recently returned from touring Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Holmes will arrive here within the next few weeks.

Hardesty pointed out that this is the first major appointment to be made for the college's fall term. The second will be announced next week, he added.

Dr. W. M. Holmes Appointed To Direct FSC Teacher Education Division

Dr. Wayne Meredith Holmes, has been appointed to head the teacher education division of Frostburg State College, R. Bowen Hardesty, president, said yesterday.

Dr. Holmes earned his doctor of philosophy degree at the University of Connecticut. His undergraduate work was in biology, German and English at Hamilton College and Springfield College.

His duties at Frostburg State will include administration and supervision of the Thomas G. Pullen School, the college laboratory school, along with the psychology, education, and the health and physical education departments. He will also supervise graduate work, Hardesty said.

Dr. Holmes served in the Army from 1941 to 1946 and in the active reserve from 1946 to 1953. His Army experience includes position of adjutant in the information and education office for the Army in Washington.

Other positions have been production controller for Anchorage Homes in Westfield, Mass.; chemical analyist for Monsanto Chemical Company, and administrative assistant for the 104th Infantry Regiment, Massachusetts National Guard.

Dr. Holmes is a member of the Kiwanis Club and for two years was national president of Phi Delta Kappa, a fraternity for scholars.

He is a native of Cooperstown, N. Y., and resides in Westfield with his family. He has been professor of education at Westfield State College, and several months ago was one of the two educators seriously considered by the Board of Trustees of Westfield College for appointment as president of that institution.

Mrs. Holmes is guidance counselor in Westfield schools. Their daughter recently returned from touring Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Holmes will arrive here within the next few weeks.

Hardesty pointed out that this is the first major appointment to be made for the college's fall term. The second will be announced next week, he added.

C&P Approves Expenditures For Maryland

Over $76,000,000 in expenditures for the past 12 months has been approved by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Maryland, according to L. Mercer Smith, vice president of the company. This total includes more than $2,900,000 authorized at Monday's board meeting.

For the provision of additional dial office equipment at Berwyn, Poolesville and Wheaton, $805,000 was approved, $184,000 was allocated for a new conference call switching equipment at Greenbelt, and $168,000 was approved for the installation for central office equipment at Temple Hills and Silver Spring.

Approval was granted to spend $457,300 for two projects in Baltimore City, providing for increased service in the north and northeast sections, and $288,000 was allocated for several Baltimore County projects to meet customer demands in the Arbutus area.

The expenditure of $347,500 was approved for several projects to increase service on the Eastern Shore.

For the company's Westminster district, approval was granted to spend $134,500 to provide 792 additional lines and associated dial equipment at Frederick. This expenditure will also provide additional voice channels between Frederick and Damascus, Emmitsburg and New Market to meet growing inter-city call volumes.

Blocks Road With Fence, Nine Charge

Nine residents of the Oldtown area filed an equity suit yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking an injunction to require the removal of a fence or barricade from a county road leading off State Route 51 at Oldtown.

Complainants in the case are Eugene P. Nixon, Stella Larsen and Dale Larsen, her husband; Alice K. Fuese and Joseph L. Fuese, her husband; J. F. DeShong and Leona DeShong, his wife; W. E. Wagner and A. S. Wagner, his wife. They brought the action against Albert Kinser of Oldtown.

The complainants note in their bill of complaint that they own property in the Oldtown area near the county road running off State Route 51. They charge that Kinser, without lawful authority, placed three fences at different points across the county road.

Associate Judge W. Earle Bobey yesterday signed a show cause order giving Kinser 15 days to show cause why an injunction should not be granted requiring the removal of the fence or barricade.

Attorney Edward J. Ryan is representing the nine complainants.

C&P Approves Expenditures For Maryland

Over $76,000,000 in expenditures for the past 12 months has been approved by the board of directors of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Maryland, according to L. Mercer Smith, vice president of the company. This total includes more than $2,900,000 authorized at Monday's board meeting.

For the provision of additional dial office equipment at Berwyn, Poolesville and Wheaton, $805,000 was approved, $184,000 was allocated for a new conference call switching equipment at Greenbelt, and $168,000 was approved for the installation for central office equipment at Temple Hills and Silver Spring.

Approval was granted to spend $457,300 for two projects in Baltimore City, providing for increased service in the north and northeast sections, and $288,000 was allocated for several Baltimore County projects to meet customer demands in the Arbutus area.

The expenditure of $347,500 was approved for several projects to increase service on the Eastern Shore.

For the company's Westminster district, approval was granted to spend $134,500 to provide 792 additional lines and associated dial equipment at Frederick. This expenditure will also provide additional voice channels between Frederick and Damascus, Emmitsburg and New Market to meet growing inter-city call volumes.

Blocks Road With Fence, Nine Charge

Nine residents of the Oldtown area filed an equity suit yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking an injunction to require the removal of a fence or barricade from a county road leading off State Route 51 at Oldtown.

Complainants in the case are Eugene P. Nixon, Stella Larsen and Dale Larsen, her husband; Alice K. Fuese and Joseph L. Fuese, her husband; J. F. DeShong and Leona DeShong, his wife; W. E. Wagner and A. S. Wagner, his wife. They brought the action against Albert Kinser of Oldtown.

The complainants note in their bill of complaint that they own property in the Oldtown area near the county road running off State Route 51. They charge that Kinser, without lawful authority, placed three fences at different points across the county road.

Associate Judge W. Earle Bobey yesterday signed a show cause order giving Kinser 15 days to show cause why an injunction should not be granted requiring the removal of the fence or barricade.

Attorney Edward J. Ryan is representing the nine complainants.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—If Carolyn Jones appears confused these days it's for a good reason — she's playing four roles in the same television show, all of them sisters.

"It's not easy," said Miss Jones on the set of "Burke's Law," a new television show in which she'll play the four roles in one segment.

"The parts cross one another. Each girl has a different voice and facial expressions. And I have to put on a new head every morning. Your thinking processes have to change for each of the girls. The makeup and wigs must also be different.

"In order to make a definite separation of characters, one is blonde, another brunette, another has streaked hair and the fourth wears glasses."

The four faces of Miss Jones on "Burke's Law" will portray a sweet demure girl, a man-chasing woman, an outdoor girl and a boozer.

"We'll do all of this in six days of filming," said Carolyn. "I'm fortunate that I don't make a mistake and say one sister's lines when I'm playing another. The different costumes and make-up help me remember who I am. Actually, there's no more dialogue to remember for this show than there would be if I was playing a leading role."

Modern Hollywood filming techniques make it possible for us to see Carolyn in one scene as three of the four sisters.

"Its all very involved," she explained. "They tie the camera down and mark positions for the three girls. Then they run the camera and I step into each position."

When the film comes on the screen, there's Carolyn talking to her two sisters, each of whom is her.

Miss Jones' husband, Aaron Spelling, is producer of "Burke's Law," which stars Gene Barry. Spelling no doubt chose his wife for the role because he has four times as much confidence in her as he does for any actress in town.

Carolyn's emotions can run the gamut in four roles. She might possibly be the only actress in television to be both a murder victim and the murderer.

Yep, one sister bumps off another, a plot which is ideal for the actress who plays both sisters. What other performer has a death scene and is still around when the show ends. Not only that, she has three more lives left.

There's no telling where this job might lead Carolyn Jones. Who knows she might star in a film based on the Andrews sisters. With her "Burke's Law" experience, Miss Jones could play all three of the Andrews girls and a friend to boot.

Camera Angles: Donald O'Connor is expected to headline a Telephone Hour television spectacular in November . . . Dina Merrill goes West for a "Rawhide" episode . . . Mickey Shaughnessey, the sometimes boisterous comedian, has been cast in the "Company of Cowards" movie . . . Warner Bros. studio has cast Rt. Reverend Monsignor Fidencio Esparza, pastor of San Antonio De Padua in Los Angeles, to portray a priest in "Dead Ringer," co-starring Bette Davis and Karl Malden.

Several Appeals Cases Heard In Allegany County Circuit Court

A number of criminal appeal cases were heard yesterday in Circuit Court by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey.

The case against Edward Louis Thomas Jr. for reckless driving was dismissed by the state.

A not guilty verdict was returned in the appeal of Kenneth Rice from a conviction in the lower court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of three minor boys. The boys were with Rice when he was charged with motor law violations about 1:30 a. m. Judge Cobey said there was no evidence of Rice contributing to the delinquency of the youths.

Thomas was represented by Edward J. Ryan while Harold E. Naughton was counsel for Rice.

The court suspended a $38 fine which had been assessed in the lower court against Irwin Walker Browning on a charge of overweight on a truck registration. The court also gave a suspended sentence to William George Albright, who had appealed a conviction on a charge of overweight on the second axle of a truck. Ryan represented both appellants.

A charge of having five undersize bass in possession against Donald W. Evans was dismissed by the state. Two men who are residents of Kentucky, failed to appear in court on charges of having improper fishing licenses and their bonds were forfeited.

The appeal of Lester Cameron Jr. from a conviction on a charge of failing to stop for a school bus was continued until a later date. Peter J. Carpenti is his counsel.

Della To Seek Top Post In State AFL-CIO

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charles A. Della, secretary-treasurer of the Maryland-D.C. AFL-CIO, plans to run for the presidency of the organization against incumbent Woodrow F. Strong.

The job pays $10,500 a year. The contest will be the first open competition for the post in the six-year history of the merged labor federation.

The president will be nominated Tuesday and elected Wednesday during the four-day convention of the AFL-CIO organization in Washington. The meeting opens Tuesday.

Della is a Baltimorean and Strong lives in Silver Spring. Both men reserved any statement on the issues involved in Della's decision to run against Strong.

Strong has been president since January, 1948, five months after the merger. He was re-elected without opposition at 1959 and 1961 conventions.

About 400 delegates from 246 local unions in Maryland and the District of Columbia are expected to attend the convention.

They also will elect a secretary-treasurer, first and second vice presidents and 21 regional vice presidents — six from the Washington area, nine from the Baltimore area, and two each from the Eastern Shore, Hagerstown and Cumberland areas.

Remaking The Map Of Canada

When many middle-aged and elderly people were mere boys and girls studying geography, the Northwest Territories, that tremendously icy section of the Dominion of Canada, was divided into three provisional districts, Mackenzie, Keewatin and Franklin.

Mackenzie was named after Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the great fur trader and explorer who lived from 1764 to 1820 — a Scot, of course. Franklin was named after an Englishman, Sir John Franklin (1786-1847) who served with Nelson at Trafalgar before exploring the Canadian West, and Keewatin, a romatic-sounding word, is Cree for north wind.

The Canadian parliament is preparing legislation to divide the Northwest Territories into two new territories. The part to the west will be called Mackenzie, after the explorer, while the section to the east and far north will be called Nunassiaq, a name selected by the majority of the residents and which is Eskimo for "beautiful land."

The prospect that in addition to Canada's 10 provinces there will be three instead of two territories (Yukon retains its status quo), will be of interest not only to Eskimos and school children — but also to people who make a living drawing maps and rewriting geography books.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Agenda For A Real Peace

A Canadian doctor checked the records of the number of babies born in the province of Alberta in 1961, a year of nuclear testing, and discovered a marked correlation between a presumably radio-active rainfall and a rise in the number of birth defects. And a technician with a milk company, a personal friend whose anonymity I must respect, tells me that his organization was extremely jumpy over what got into the stomachs of cows from radioactive grass during one particularly active period of nuclear experiment. I don't like to think of the radioactivity that has, at times, surely found its way into our children's milk.

Because these things bother me, I hope that the U. S. Senate will act favorably on the proposed test ban treaty which Averell Harriman brought back from Moscow. But the test ban should be accepted with open eyes, as something that stands quite by itself, and all talk that it constitutes a "hopeful" first step toward significant disarmament should be discounted at once.

Indeed, the prospects are that ratification of the test ban treaty will serve, ironically, as a prelude to an acceleration of the Cold War. The Communists, knowing what the heady catnip of "peace" propaganda does to produce indecisiveness in American and British councils, will certainly feel more confident that their localized subversion in underdeveloped countries will be allowed to proceed without protest from either Washington or London. While waiting for a summit conference, the Communists will be in a position to make hay.

The first thing to do when Khrushchev opens his mouth to suggest that a test ban treaty should be followed up by some sort of non-aggression pact is to state the conditions that we of the West demand as prelude to a comprehensive "peace." Here are some items that should be placed high on the agenda as absolutely necessary preliminary Communist concessions:

1. Free elections, under a combined West-East supervision, shall be held in East Berlin, East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Rumania. As a condition of the elections, free party organization must be permitted on a continuing basis.
2. Khruschev must withdraw both his armed soldiers and his civilian "technicians" from Castro's Cuba, with on-site inspecton, possbly under neutral UN teams, guaranteeing that the embarkations of men, planes and missiles are one hundred per cent complete.
3. The Berlin Wall must be razed, and free movement throughout eastern Europe must be reinstituted as a human right.
4. The Kremlin shall retreat to a neutral position in the struggles that are going on between the Addis Ababa African states and the Portugese colonies of Angola and Mozambique, and between Indonesia and the members of a Malaysian union. Insofar as support of Latin American Marxist parties is concerned, the Kremlin shall sign a supplementary agreement to respect the Monroe Doctrine.
5. The Hungarian Freedom Fighters who were carted off to Sibera after the suppression of the Hungarian Revolution shall be repatriated. And any other East European nationals who are being forcibly detained inside Russia shall be released.

Inasmuch as the Kremlin, like the irresponsible Kitty of E. E. Cumming's poem, always ducks the "touch of must and shall," it will be many a blue moon before any such concessions are written into a non-aggression pact. Nevertheless, the West must stand firm on a fundamental "agenda of peace" that would, in effect, restore the balance that was once envisioned in the Potsdam agreements.

Meanwhile, the armistice in nuclear testing should not be followed by a cutback in U. S. armaments, whether of the atomic or the conventional variety. The possession of "overkill," even if it is matched by the Russians, will hardly kill us, for deterrents are what keep the peace in a nationalistic world. We must keep our stock of bombs at current levels, and we must continue to improve delivery systems. If the Kremlin should ever suspect us of having fallen into a condition making for "underdelivery," then it would be goodnight.

One final observation: as long as there are any doubts that Polaris and Minuteman missiles are capable of knocking Russia out in case of war, I would feel more comfortable if the current move to "phrase out" our manned bombers were reserved.

Real peace is still a long way off. Non-aggression agreements between Russia and the West are desirable, but not at the expense of any part of the world that was outside the borders of the Kremlin's domain as it existed in 1938, before Poland was partioned by the two monsters, Hitler and Stalin.

What Can Be Done About Reverse Racism?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When the white man discriminates against the Negro, it becomes a matter of public controversy. But what shall be said when the most prominent Negro in the Congress of the United States boldly expresses his own form of discrimination against the white man?

The Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, who is the chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor in the House of Representatives, threatened the other day to bolt the Democratic Party leadership of the House on the matter of priority of certain legislation. He said in his church on Sunday in a prepared address:

"No white man, any more, is going to tell me what I should do in the field of civil rights."

Does Mr. Powell distrust the judgment of the Democratic Party leaders because they are white? He also declared that "white liberals" now must assume a secondary role to Negro leaders. Not long ago Representative Powell also said to the press:

"We have the white man on the run now, let's keep him on the run!"

This type of thinking is not likely to decrease but to increase race consciousness. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, who is often swayed by political expediencies, has produced in objective terms a clear-cut exposition of the whole question of the responsibilities of whites and Negroes in the current controversy. He did this more than five weeks ago during a discussion on NBC's "Meet The Press" program. The stenographic transcript of those comments is well worth re-reading and reproducing in the light of Representative Powell's remarks. Since the Attorney General had discussed the rights of Negroes, he was asked to define the responsibilities of the Negroes. Mr. Kennedy replied:

'I think that they have a responsibility not only to Negroes but to white people and to the United States. I think we can make great progress in this field. I think that the progress that is required and necessary will be made only if whites and negroes join together to make that progress.

"If Negroes under pressure get the idea that the only way to have steps taken is to act the role of the bully and, at least as one Negro leader has said, 'We have the white man on the run now, let's keep him on the run,' I don't think that kind of attitude will remedy the situation. I think whites and Negroes working together is what is needed at the present time, so I think that Negro leaders have a major responsibility."

Mr. Kennedy was asked if he felt that the Negro now is entitled to special treatment because of past discrimination. The Atorney General replied:

"I think he is entitled to special attention to try to remedy the sins of the past. I think we have to focus a good deal of attention—those of us in positions of responsibility and the individual citizen—on this problem. But I don't think that an individual should be hired just because he is a Negro. But, on the other hand, I think Negroes are not qualified to certain positions of skill because they have been discriminated against in the past. So I think we should make an extra effort to make sure that that problem has been remedied, that we do more for vocational training, that we do more for education, that we see that they then are entitled to the same privileges that the white person is enitled to."

Mr. Kennedy spoke some words of caution about "demonstrations" and said that Negroes "should obey the laws and should live up to law and order." He added that he had sympathy for the principle of picketing and parades to call attention to injustices, but that the conference table was a much better device. With reference to the coming "demonstration" in Washington, he declared that, while the "civil rights" legislation should be discussed by Congress, this should not be done "under an aura of pressure." He continued:

"I think there is a right to petition and there is a right of Negroes as well as others to make their views known. And it might come to a point where they feel that the legislation would not be enacted until it is shown that this legislation is wanted by a large percentage of the American people, and they will perhaps have to take some steps to make sure that that is understood. But I certainly think that at the present time the Congress should have the right to debate and discuss this legislation without this kind of pressure."

The Attorney General at the time thought the Washington demonstration was somewhat "premature." But apparently the Negro leaders have not been swayed but have gone ahead with their own plans. Unable to control the situation from the outside, the strategy applied by officials here has been to advise white groups to participate. Both Catholic and Protestant church organizations have just urged their members to take part in the parade here on August 28. This gives whites at least a voice in the planning for the event, and it begins to look now as if the "demonstration" itself will be bi-racial.

CONVENTION SITE — The Democratic selection of the location and date for the 1964 Presidential Convention represents a minimum risk on date and a compromise on site.

The only gamble the Democrats are taking is that President Kennedy will be able to run for a second White House term. Still youthful and in good health, there's little likelihood that events of the next 12 months would so work against him that the party would turn to someone else.

The site selection is another matter. Atlantic City was a compromise, and those responsible for selecting it probably did so in the belief that the convention would be perfunctory anyway.

The fact is the party leaders have little enthusiasm for the city, but were unable to get facilities in Chcago on the date they wanted. They'd have selected Miami, Fla., except for fears that Cubans there would stage an anti-Kenndy protest and thereby emphasize public concern over Kennedy's handling of the Cuban crisis.

Still, what now appears to be a dull Democratic convention could burgeon into a serious fight over the issue of integraton. It is unlikely that southern state delegations will accept the Kennedy stand without some public protest and a convention is the best place to publicize their objections. Under these conditions, there's always a danger that a demonstration will result in a party split.

Viral Hepatitis Continues To Be Problem

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Viral hepatitis continues on its merry way. We do not anticipate an epidemic and, to date, the number of reported cases is approximately the same as it was for a comparable period last year. It is one of the more common diseases of children. The infection is less frequent in adults but tends to be more severe with increasing age. Most victims acquire the causative virus through contact with a person suffering from hepatitis or via contaminated milk or water.

This liver infection begins usually with fever, loss of appetite, nausea, weakness, and abdominal discomfort. These symtoms are followed by jaundice, in which the skin and whites of the eyes become yellow.

In some instances, the disorder is mild, without jaundice. These cases are recognized only by liver function tests; when they are not done, the condition escapes detection. The victim may not receive proper treatment, and innocently pass along the virus to others.

Prevention is purely a problem of sanitation on the community and individual levels. Gamma globulin is a good preventive for those exposed to hepatitis, provided it is used promptly. It is recommended to all exposed adults who never have had the disease. Children may not need it unless they are ill or sickly.

In a family of three children, one became ill and the other two received gamma globulin. Both parents were neglected and two weeks later developed the disease. It was a severe illness and could have been prevented. On the other hand, if the children had not received gamma globulin they might have developed hepatitis but it would have been mild.

Rest in bed is the best remedy. This is done until the liver function tests return to normal limits. Relapses are likely unless this plan is followed. A nourishing diet is indicated but usually the patient's appetite must be tempted with foods he likes. Lemonade with glucose several times a day may be acceptable. If nausea is bothersome, antiemetic products will ease the symtoms. Most authorities agree that alcohol is taboo for at least 6 months; there is no sense in insulting an already handicapped liver.

EMOTIONAL BLOTCHES

E. G. writes: When I get nervous or excited, ugly red blotches appear on my face, neck, chest, and arms. What causes these spots and can anything be done about them? They embarrass me and increase self-consciousness.

REPLY

You have answered your own question about the cause. This is a normal skin reaction to emotions and is not a sign of weakness, disease, or any other abnormality. In other words, there is no need to be embarrassed even though not everyone develops blotches when he or she is self-conscious or becomes upset emotionally.

Try And Stop Me

Joe Garagiola, one-time big-league catcher, has become an accomplished after-dinner speaker, though his name is frequently misspelled in the banquet programs. Governor Faubus had occasion to question Joe's name. "In the hills where I was born," averred Faubus, "we would take a name like that, get two girls' names out of it, and have enough left over for three boys."

Joe Garagiola says he played football, too, when he was a boy—until he nearly drowned in one game. How's that again, I can hear you ask. Well, Joe was playing on a field so uneven that it was covered with mud puddles. He was thrown for a loss on one play—right in a puddle, face down, and the entire opposing line fell on top of him. When they untangled the mess, Joe was about to go under for the third time. After that, he stuck to baseball.

Khrushchev, Kennedy Have Similar Problems With The Military Chiefs

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most Americans don't realize it, but it's probable that Nikita Krushchev has just about as much trouble with his military leaders as does John F. Kennedy.

It's not unusual that civilian chiefs have trouble with their military. DeGaulle has faced open army rebellion. The Argentine Government has been kicked out several times by its military. The Peruvian military threw out one government last year and decided elections their own way this year, while the President of Ecuador is the latest to feel the bite of his military men.

But somehow the world doesn't think of the top man of the Communist world as having to worry about his military. President Tito of Yugoslavia, in an unusually frank interview last summer told me, however, that this was not true, that Khrushchev did have to listen to the Red Army.

One indication of this fact came in 1959 when Khrushchev announced that the Soviet was spending too much money on arms, that big land armies were out of date and announced a cut of about 2,000,000 men. This also entailed a cut of about 250,000 officers.

And the howl that went up from them was just as bitter, though not as vocal as that which has come from the U.S. Admirals when the civilian chiefs at the Pentagon proposed reducing airplane carriers, or when secretary McNamara cut the budget for the B-70.

In brief, military men are about the same the world over, and the Red Army protest was so strong that Khrushchev abandoned his plans for a cut.

Red Army On Nuclear Tests

I got a further indication that the Red Army was potent two years ago when Khrushchev told me that he had received letters from army men urging that in view of the Berlin crisis, he not demobilized the class ready for demobilization. Khrushchev said he thought he would follow their advice.

He also told me that he was under pressure from the Red Army to resume nuclear testing. The Red Army, he said, believed that Russia was following behind United States. He did not tell me what he planned to do, but about a week later, he did resume testing.

The Joint Chiefs of staff last week told President Kennedy that they were afraid Russia would get ahead of the United States during any test ban.

During the Cuban crisis it was reported by Ambassador Foy Kohler that the Red Army was furious with Khrushchev for pulling his missiles out of Cuba. And there were reports that Khrushchev had bowed to Red Army pressure when he put the missiles in Cuba in the first place.

At any rate, after the Cuban crisis it was obvious that something was happening between Khrushchev and his military men. They were going to other members of the Kremlin in the same way the Joint Chiefs of Staff slip up to Capitol Hill to spill the beans to their favorite champions—Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri or Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia.

After Cuba, Marshal Malinowsky, the Soviet Secretary of Defense, publicly took exception to a book published by Marshal Yeremenko giving Khrushchev the main credit for victor at Stalingrad. Disagreeing publicly, Malinowsky gave credit to Marshal Zhukov, now picked out of power. This was equivalent to Secretary McNamara saying that John F. Kennedy was no hero in the PT boat incident, that Richard Nixon was a greater hero.

Army Shake up

While Malinowsky was on a trip to Indonesia a short time later, Marshall Matvei Zakharov was removed as chief of staff and replaced by Marshal Sergei Biryuzov, a missile expert close to Khrushchev; while the Chief of intelligence, General I. A. Serov, was also eased out. Both he and Zakharov were reported implicated in the spy trial of Col. Oleg Penkovsky.

Reports today are that Khrushchev is in definite control of the Red Army. Unless he were, perhaps he would not have proceeded with the test ban agreement.

Bupt the point Americans have to remember is that the Soviet is no longer a monolithic state. There are cross-currents of liberalism and reaction inside it which any leader has to reckon with. He has his problems with dissenters just as much as president Kennedy has his problems with the Barry Goldwaters, the Sen. Strom Thurmonds and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

And one of the arguments which Undersecretary of State Harriman made to President Kennedy last year, and since, was that the United States has to give Khrushchev some tangible evidence that his co-existence policy will work. If we continue giving his overtures the diplomatic straight arm—as Kennedy did after the Cuban crisis—then pressures inside the Communist world will be too great and Khrushchev might abandon co-existence.

That's why the test ban treaty is so important, as a symbol—or as JFK himself said—one small step in the 1,000-mile journey to peace.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

LAS VEGAS, Nevada. — The hour was late. The Cactus Room was almost empty. White tablecloths stared blindly at the ceiling. Two men sipped coffee and talked, as men will, when they do not want to go to bed. Jack Butler, the Brooklyn boy, was telling Ben Blue about the gambler who lost everything, rented a car, and tried to sell it to get fresh money.

Butler has a happy full-moon face and a voice like the bottom string on a cello. Ben Blue has a pointed face and a head that looks as though it should be standing in an egg cup. He is 62, an old-time comic who is gifted with 20-20 vision when it comes to looking at a dollar. He works the loud lounge at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn, a slender man talking and singing against the clink of slot machines and the cry of the stick men at the craps table.

Ben Blue has two million dollars. He was never a star, and isn't one now. The star at the Desert Inn is Eddie Fisher, the deserted deserter. Fisher gets $25,000 a week. Blue gets $14,000 and has to pay everybody in his act. "The money I made in clubs I never kept," he said. "Still, I guess I'm one of the richest actors in the business. Know how?" Butler shrugged. "I met men like Paul Getty and Senator Kerr and Donald Douglas.

"When they said 'Buy this' or 'Sell that', I did it. That's how." Butler told about two jockeys he knew. "They're coming into the stretch and Ted and Johnny are neck and neck, you know? Johnny yells: 'I lost my whip.' Teddy hands his over and yells: 'Be my guest.' Johnny flogs his nag and wins going away. In the tack room, he thanked Teddy.

"'I'm glad you gave me that bat,' he said. 'I had a big bet on that horse.' Ted said, 'Think nothing of it, pal. I had a lot on him too.'" They talked gambling and show business. Blue has a long memory, but he can't remember names. Sometimes, when he is dropping a thousand or two at the craps table, he can't remember his.

He was sipping the coffee, now cold and sludgy, and remembering famous people with whom he has worked, or who worked with him. They include Martha Raye, Binnie Barnes, Eve Arden, Joan Davis, Jackie Gleason and Ginger Rogers. For a long while, he wore a flowing turban and did a harem act.

"In comedy," Butler said naively, "what do you look for?" "Laughs," Blue said. "The main idea is to keep moving. You gotta be louder than the audience or you're dead." Butler said he remembered the time when Jimmy Durante arrived and began to gamble for high stakes. A crowd collected and some old ladies interrupted his play to ask for his autograph.

"Hold the dice," he would yell. "I found another fan." He signed his name with good humor, beamed at the old lady and murmured: "Oh, how fickle you are." One of Durante's entourage edged in with a telegram. "Please," said Jimmy, breathing hard on the dice, "I'm busy."

The man said that the wire was important; a network was offering him $5,000,000 for five years work. Durante paused, studied the dice, and the money on the table. "Tell them no," he said. "I can't afford it." Blue listened with a tired smile.

"You remember Slapsie Maxie's in Hollywood?" he said. "Well, me and Jackie Gleason and Ben Lessy used to work there. The joint was owned by Sammy Lewis, one of the nicest guys in the business. But he scared easy. If business was off, he used to run out in the kitchen and reset the butter cutter so that the squares were smaller. He'd see a bus boy who got $6 a night and he'd say, 'Kid, how'd you like to take the night off—and three bucks?'

"Well, the war came along and everything was blacked out, and business got so bad, we were playing to each other. One night there was a cloudburst. I mean a real cloudburst. The doorman should have used a scuba outfit. The joint was empty. Not one customer showed. So we all got drunk and Sammy got so scared he offered to make me a partner.

"A drunk walks in. He's half drowned but he's a customer. A waiter pours him into a ringside table and he yells, 'Champagne for everybody!' Sammy Lewis hollers 'Show time' and now we're playing to one drunken customer. He drank his champagne until we floated onstage. Gleason went into a fat man's strip act. Then Ben Lessy started to disrobe. Then I kicked off my clothes and got onstage in a straw hat and a pair of shoes.

"We put on a show that lasted three hours. This was a performance like nobody ever saw. We broke each other up. Completely nutty. When it was all over, we were exhausted. The drunk didn't have a dime. Sad. We had to roll him back out into the rain."

"You like Vegas?" Butler said. "Love it," Blue said, getting up from the table. "I've been working here 13 years. But the people here are too suspicious. Everybody watches everybody else. When I lose a couple of bucks, the stick man rakes it in. He's being watched by the box man. The box man is watched by the pit boss.

"The pit boss is watched by the floor boss. It's like the hip bone conected with the thigh bone. Up in the wall, there's a guy watching the floor boss with a spy glass. Nobody but me knows he's a cousin of the stick man . . ."

Remaking The Map Of Canada

When many middle-aged and elderly people were mere boys and girls studying geography, the Northwest Territories, that tremendously icy section of the Dominion of Canada, was divided into three provisional districts, Mackenzie, Keewatin and Franklin.

Mackenzie was named after Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the great fur trader and explorer who lived from 1764 to 1820 — a Scot, of course. Franklin was named after an Englishman, Sir John Franklin (1786-1847) who served with Nelson at Trafalgar before exploring the Canadian West, and Keewatin, a romatic-sounding word, is Cree for north wind.

The Canadian parliament is preparing legislation to divide the Northwest Territories into two new territories. The part to the west will be called Mackenzie, after the explorer, while the section to the east and far north will be called Nunassiaq, a name selected by the majority of the residents and which is Eskimo for "beautiful land."

The prospect that in addition to Canada's 10 provinces there will be three instead of two territories (Yukon retains its status quo), will be of interest not only to Eskimos and school children — but also to people who make a living drawing maps and rewriting geography books.

Agenda For A Real Peace

A Canadian doctor checked the records of the number of babies born in the province of Alberta in 1961, a year of nuclear testing, and discovered a marked correlation between a presumably radio-active rainfall and a rise in the number of birth defects. And a technician with a milk company, a personal friend whose anonymity I must respect, tells me that his organization was extremely jumpy over what got into the stomachs of cows from radioactive grass during one particularly active period of nuclear experiment. I don't like to think of the radioactivity that has, at times, surely found its way into our children's milk.

Because these things bother me, I hope that the U. S. Senate will act favorably on the proposed test ban treaty which Averell Harriman brought back from Moscow. But the test ban should be accepted with open eyes, as something that stands quite by itself, and all talk that it constitutes a "hopeful" first step toward significant disarmament should be discounted at once.

Indeed, the prospects are that ratification of the test ban treaty will serve, ironically, as a prelude to an acceleration of the Cold War. The Communists, knowing what the heady catnip of "peace" propaganda does to produce indecisiveness in American and British councils, will certainly feel more confident that their localized subversion in underdeveloped countries will be allowed to proceed without protest from either Washington or London. While waiting for a summit conference, the Communists will be in a position to make hay.

The first thing to do when Khrushchev opens his mouth to suggest that a test ban treaty should be followed up by some sort of non-aggression pact is to state the conditions that we of the West demand as prelude to a comprehensive "peace." Here are some items that should be placed high on the agenda as absolutely necessary preliminary Communist concessions:

1. Free elections, under a combined West-East supervision, shall be held in East Berlin, East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Rumania. As a condition of the elections, free party organization must be permitted on a continuing basis.
2. Khruschev must withdraw both his armed soldiers and his civilian "technicians" from Castro's Cuba, with on-site inspecton, possbly under neutral UN teams, guaranteeing that the embarkations of men, planes and missiles are one hundred per cent complete.
3. The Berlin Wall must be razed, and free movement throughout eastern Europe must be reinstituted as a human right.
4. The Kremlin shall retreat to a neutral position in the struggles that are going on between the Addis Ababa African states and the Portugese colonies of Angola and Mozambique, and between Indonesia and the members of a Malaysian union. Insofar as support of Latin American Marxist parties is concerned, the Kremlin shall sign a supplementary agreement to respect the Monroe Doctrine.
5. The Hungarian Freedom Fighters who were carted off to Sibera after the suppression of the Hungarian Revolution shall be repatriated. And any other East European nationals who are being forcibly detained inside Russia shall be released.

Inasmuch as the Kremlin, like the irresponsible Kitty of E. E. Cumming's poem, always ducks the "touch of must and shall," it will be many a blue moon before any such concessions are written into a non-aggression pact. Nevertheless, the West must stand firm on a fundamental "agenda of peace" that would, in effect, restore the balance that was once envisioned in the Potsdam agreements.

Meanwhile, the armistice in nuclear testing should not be followed by a cutback in U. S. armaments, whether of the atomic or the conventional variety. The possession of "overkill," even if it is matched by the Russians, will hardly kill us, for deterrents are what keep the peace in a nationalistic world. We must keep our stock of bombs at current levels, and we must continue to improve delivery systems. If the Kremlin should ever suspect us of having fallen into a condition making for "underdelivery," then it would be goodnight.

One final observation: as long as there are any doubts that Polaris and Minuteman missiles are capable of knocking Russia out in case of war, I would feel more comfortable if the current move to "phrase out" our manned bombers were reserved.

Real peace is still a long way off. Non-aggression agreements between Russia and the West are desirable, but not at the expense of any part of the world that was outside the borders of the Kremlin's domain as it existed in 1938, before Poland was partioned by the two monsters, Hitler and Stalin.

What Can Be Done About Reverse Racism?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When the white man discriminates against the Negro, it becomes a matter of public controversy. But what shall be said when the most prominent Negro in the Congress of the United States boldly expresses his own form of discrimination against the white man?

The Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, who is the chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor in the House of Representatives, threatened the other day to bolt the Democratic Party leadership of the House on the matter of priority of certain legislation. He said in his church on Sunday in a prepared address:

"No white man, any more, is going to tell me what I should do in the field of civil rights."

Does Mr. Powell distrust the judgment of the Democratic Party leaders because they are white? He also declared that "white liberals" now must assume a secondary role to Negro leaders. Not long ago Representative Powell also said to the press:

"We have the white man on the run now, let's keep him on the run!"

This type of thinking is not likely to decrease but to increase race consciousness. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, who is often swayed by political expediencies, has produced in objective terms a clear-cut exposition of the whole question of the responsibilities of whites and Negroes in the current controversy. He did this more than five weeks ago during a discussion on NBC's "Meet The Press" program. The stenographic transcript of those comments is well worth re-reading and reproducing in the light of Representative Powell's remarks. Since the Attorney General had discussed the rights of Negroes, he was asked to define the responsibilities of the Negroes. Mr. Kennedy replied:

'I think that they have a responsibility not only to Negroes but to white people and to the United States. I think we can make great progress in this field. I think that the progress that is required and necessary will be made only if whites and negroes join together to make that progress.

"If Negroes under pressure get the idea that the only way to have steps taken is to act the role of the bully and, at least as one Negro leader has said, 'We have the white man on the run now, let's keep him on the run,' I don't think that kind of attitude will remedy the situation. I think whites and Negroes working together is what is needed at the present time, so I think that Negro leaders have a major responsibility."

Mr. Kennedy was asked if he felt that the Negro now is entitled to special treatment because of past discrimination. The Atorney General replied:

"I think he is entitled to special attention to try to remedy the sins of the past. I think we have to focus a good deal of attention—those of us in positions of responsibility and the individual citizen—on this problem. But I don't think that an individual should be hired just because he is a Negro. But, on the other hand, I think Negroes are not qualified to certain positions of skill because they have been discriminated against in the past. So I think we should make an extra effort to make sure that that problem has been remedied, that we do more for vocational training, that we do more for education, that we see that they then are entitled to the same privileges that the white person is enitled to."

Mr. Kennedy spoke some words of caution about "demonstrations" and said that Negroes "should obey the laws and should live up to law and order." He added that he had sympathy for the principle of picketing and parades to call attention to injustices, but that the conference table was a much better device. With reference to the coming "demonstration" in Washington, he declared that, while the "civil rights" legislation should be discussed by Congress, this should not be done "under an aura of pressure." He continued:

"I think there is a right to petition and there is a right of Negroes as well as others to make their views known. And it might come to a point where they feel that the legislation would not be enacted until it is shown that this legislation is wanted by a large percentage of the American people, and they will perhaps have to take some steps to make sure that that is understood. But I certainly think that at the present time the Congress should have the right to debate and discuss this legislation without this kind of pressure."

The Attorney General at the time thought the Washington demonstration was somewhat "premature." But apparently the Negro leaders have not been swayed but have gone ahead with their own plans. Unable to control the situation from the outside, the strategy applied by officials here has been to advise white groups to participate. Both Catholic and Protestant church organizations have just urged their members to take part in the parade here on August 28. This gives whites at least a voice in the planning for the event, and it begins to look now as if the "demonstration" itself will be bi-racial.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

CONVENTION SITE — The Democratic selection of the location and date for the 1964 Presidential Convention represents a minimum risk on date and a compromise on site.

The only gamble the Democrats are taking is that President Kennedy will be able to run for a second White House term. Still youthful and in good health, there's little likelihood that events of the next 12 months would so work against him that the party would turn to someone else.

The site selection is another matter. Atlantic City was a compromise, and those responsible for selecting it probably did so in the belief that the convention would be perfunctory anyway.

The fact is the party leaders have little enthusiasm for the city, but were unable to get facilities in Chcago on the date they wanted. They'd have selected Miami, Fla., except for fears that Cubans there would stage an anti-Kenndy protest and thereby emphasize public concern over Kennedy's handling of the Cuban crisis.

Still, what now appears to be a dull Democratic convention could burgeon into a serious fight over the issue of integraton. It is unlikely that southern state delegations will accept the Kennedy stand without some public protest and a convention is the best place to publicize their objections. Under these conditions, there's always a danger that a demonstration will result in a party split.

Viral Hepatitis Continues To Be Problem

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Viral hepatitis continues on its merry way. We do not anticipate an epidemic and, to date, the number of reported cases is approximately the same as it was for a comparable period last year. It is one of the more common diseases of children. The infection is less frequent in adults but tends to be more severe with increasing age. Most victims acquire the causative virus through contact with a person suffering from hepatitis or via contaminated milk or water.

This liver infection begins usually with fever, loss of appetite, nausea, weakness, and abdominal discomfort. These symtoms are followed by jaundice, in which the skin and whites of the eyes become yellow.

In some instances, the disorder is mild, without jaundice. These cases are recognized only by liver function tests; when they are not done, the condition escapes detection. The victim may not receive proper treatment, and innocently pass along the virus to others.

Prevention is purely a problem of sanitation on the community and individual levels. Gamma globulin is a good preventive for those exposed to hepatitis, provided it is used promptly. It is recommended to all exposed adults who never have had the disease. Children may not need it unless they are ill or sickly.

In a family of three children, one became ill and the other two received gamma globulin. Both parents were neglected and two weeks later developed the disease. It was a severe illness and could have been prevented. On the other hand, if the children had not received gamma globulin they might have developed hepatitis but it would have been mild.

Rest in bed is the best remedy. This is done until the liver function tests return to normal limits. Relapses are likely unless this plan is followed. A nourishing diet is indicated but usually the patient's appetite must be tempted with foods he likes. Lemonade with glucose several times a day may be acceptable. If nausea is bothersome, antiemetic products will ease the symtoms. Most authorities agree that alcohol is taboo for at least 6 months; there is no sense in insulting an already handicapped liver.

Khrushchev, Kennedy Have Similar Problems With The Military Chiefs

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most Americans don't realize it, but it's probable that Nikita Krushchev has just about as much trouble with his military leaders as does John F. Kennedy.

Reports today are that Khrushchev is in definite control of the Red Army. Unless he were, perhaps he would not have proceeded with the test ban agreement.

Bupt the point Americans have to remember is that the Soviet is no longer a monolithic state. There are cross-currents of liberalism and reaction inside it which any leader has to reckon with. He has his problems with dissenters just as much as president Kennedy has his problems with the Barry Goldwaters, the Sen. Strom Thurmonds and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

And one of the arguments which Undersecretary of State Harriman made to President Kennedy last year, and since, was that the United States has to give Khrushchev some tangible evidence that his co-existence policy will work. If we continue giving his overtures the diplomatic straight arm—as Kennedy did after the Cuban crisis—then pressures inside the Communist world will be too great and Khrushchev might abandon co-existence.

That's why the test ban treaty is so important, as a symbol—or as JFK himself said—one small step in the 1,000-mile journey to peace.

LAS VEGAS, Nevada. — The hour was late. The Cactus Room was almost empty. White tablecloths stared blindly at the ceiling. Two men sipped coffee and talked, as men will, when they do not want to go to bed. Jack Butler, the Brooklyn boy, was telling Ben Blue about the gambler who lost everything, rented a car, and tried to sell it to get fresh money.

Butler has a happy full-moon face and a voice like the bottom string on a cello. Ben Blue has a pointed face and a head that looks as though it should be standing in an egg cup. He is 62, an old-time comic who is gifted with 20-20 vision when it comes to looking at a dollar. He works the loud lounge at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn, a slender man talking and singing against the clink of slot machines and the cry of the stick men at the craps table.

Ben Blue has two million dollars. He was never a star, and isn't one now. The star at the Desert Inn is Eddie Fisher, the deserted deserter. Fisher gets $25,000 a week. Blue gets $14,000 and has to pay everybody in his act. "The money I made in clubs I never kept," he said. "Still, I guess I'm one of the richest actors in the business. Know how?" Butler shrugged. "I met men like Paul Getty and Senator Kerr and Donald Douglas.

"When they said 'Buy this' or 'Sell that', I did it. That's how." Butler told about two jockeys he knew. "They're coming into the stretch and Ted and Johnny are neck and neck, you know? Johnny yells: 'I lost my whip.' Teddy hands his over and yells: 'Be my guest.' Johnny flogs his nag and wins going away. In the tack room, he thanked Teddy.

" 'I'm glad you gave me that bat,' he said. 'I had a big bet on that horse.' Ted said, 'Think nothing of it, pal. I had a lot on him too.' " They talked gambling and show business. Blue has a long memory, but he can't remember names. Sometimes, when he is dropping a thousand or two at the craps table, he can't remember his.

He was sipping the coffee, now cold and sludgy, and remembering famous people with whom he has worked, or who worked with him. They include Martha Raye, Binnie Barnes, Eve Arden, Joan Davis, Jackie Gleason and Ginger Rogers. For a long while, he wore a flowing turban and did a harem act.

"In comedy," Butler said naively, "what do you look for?" "Laughs," Blue said. "The main idea is to keep moving. You gotta be louder than the audience or you're dead." Butler said he remembered the time when Jimmy Durante arrived and began to gamble for high stakes. A crowd collected and some old ladies interrupted his play to ask for his autograph.

"Hold the dice," he would yell. "I found another fan." He signed his name with good humor, beamed at the old lady and murmured: "Oh, how fickle you are." One of Durante's entourage edged in with a telegram. "Please," said Jimmy, breathing hard on the dice, "I'm busy."

The man said that the wire was important; a network was offering him $5,000,000 for five years work. Durante paused, studied the dice, and the money on the table. "Tell them no," he said. "I can't afford it." Blue listened with a tired smile.

"You remember Slapsie Maxie's in Hollywood?" he said. "Well, me and Jackie Gleason and Ben Lessy used to work there. The joint was owned by Sammy Lewis, one of the nicest guys in the business. But he scared easy. If business was off, he used to run out in the kitchen and reset the butter cutter so that the squares were smaller. He'd see a bus boy who got $6 a night and he'd say, 'Kid, how'd you like to take the night off—and three bucks?'

"Well, the war came along and everything was blacked out, and business got so bad, we were playing to each other. One night there was a cloudburst. I mean a real cloudburst. The doorman should have used a scuba outfit. The joint was empty. Not one customer showed. So we all got drunk and Sammy got so scared he offered to make me a partner.

"A drunk walks in. He's half drowned but he's a customer. A waiter pours him into a ringside table and he yells, 'Champagne for everybody!' Sammy Lewis hollers 'Show time' and now we're playing to one drunken customer. He drank his champagne until we floated onstage. Gleason went into a fat man's strip act. Then Ben Lessy started to disrobe. Then I kicked off my clothes and got onstage in a straw hat and a pair of shoes.

"We put on a show that lasted three hours. This was a performance like nobody ever saw. We broke each other up. Completely nutty. When it was all over, we were exhausted. The drunk didn't have a dime. Sad. We had to roll him back out into the rain."

"You like Vegas?" Butler said. "Love it," Blue said, getting up from the table. "I've been working here 13 years. But the people here are too suspicious. Everybody watches everybody else. When I lose a couple of bucks, the stick man rakes it in. He's being watched by the box man. The box man is watched by the pit boss.

"The pit boss is watched by the floor boss. It's like the hip bone conected with the thigh bone. Up in the wall, there's a guy watching the floor boss with a spy glass. Nobody but me knows he's a cousin of the stick man . . ."

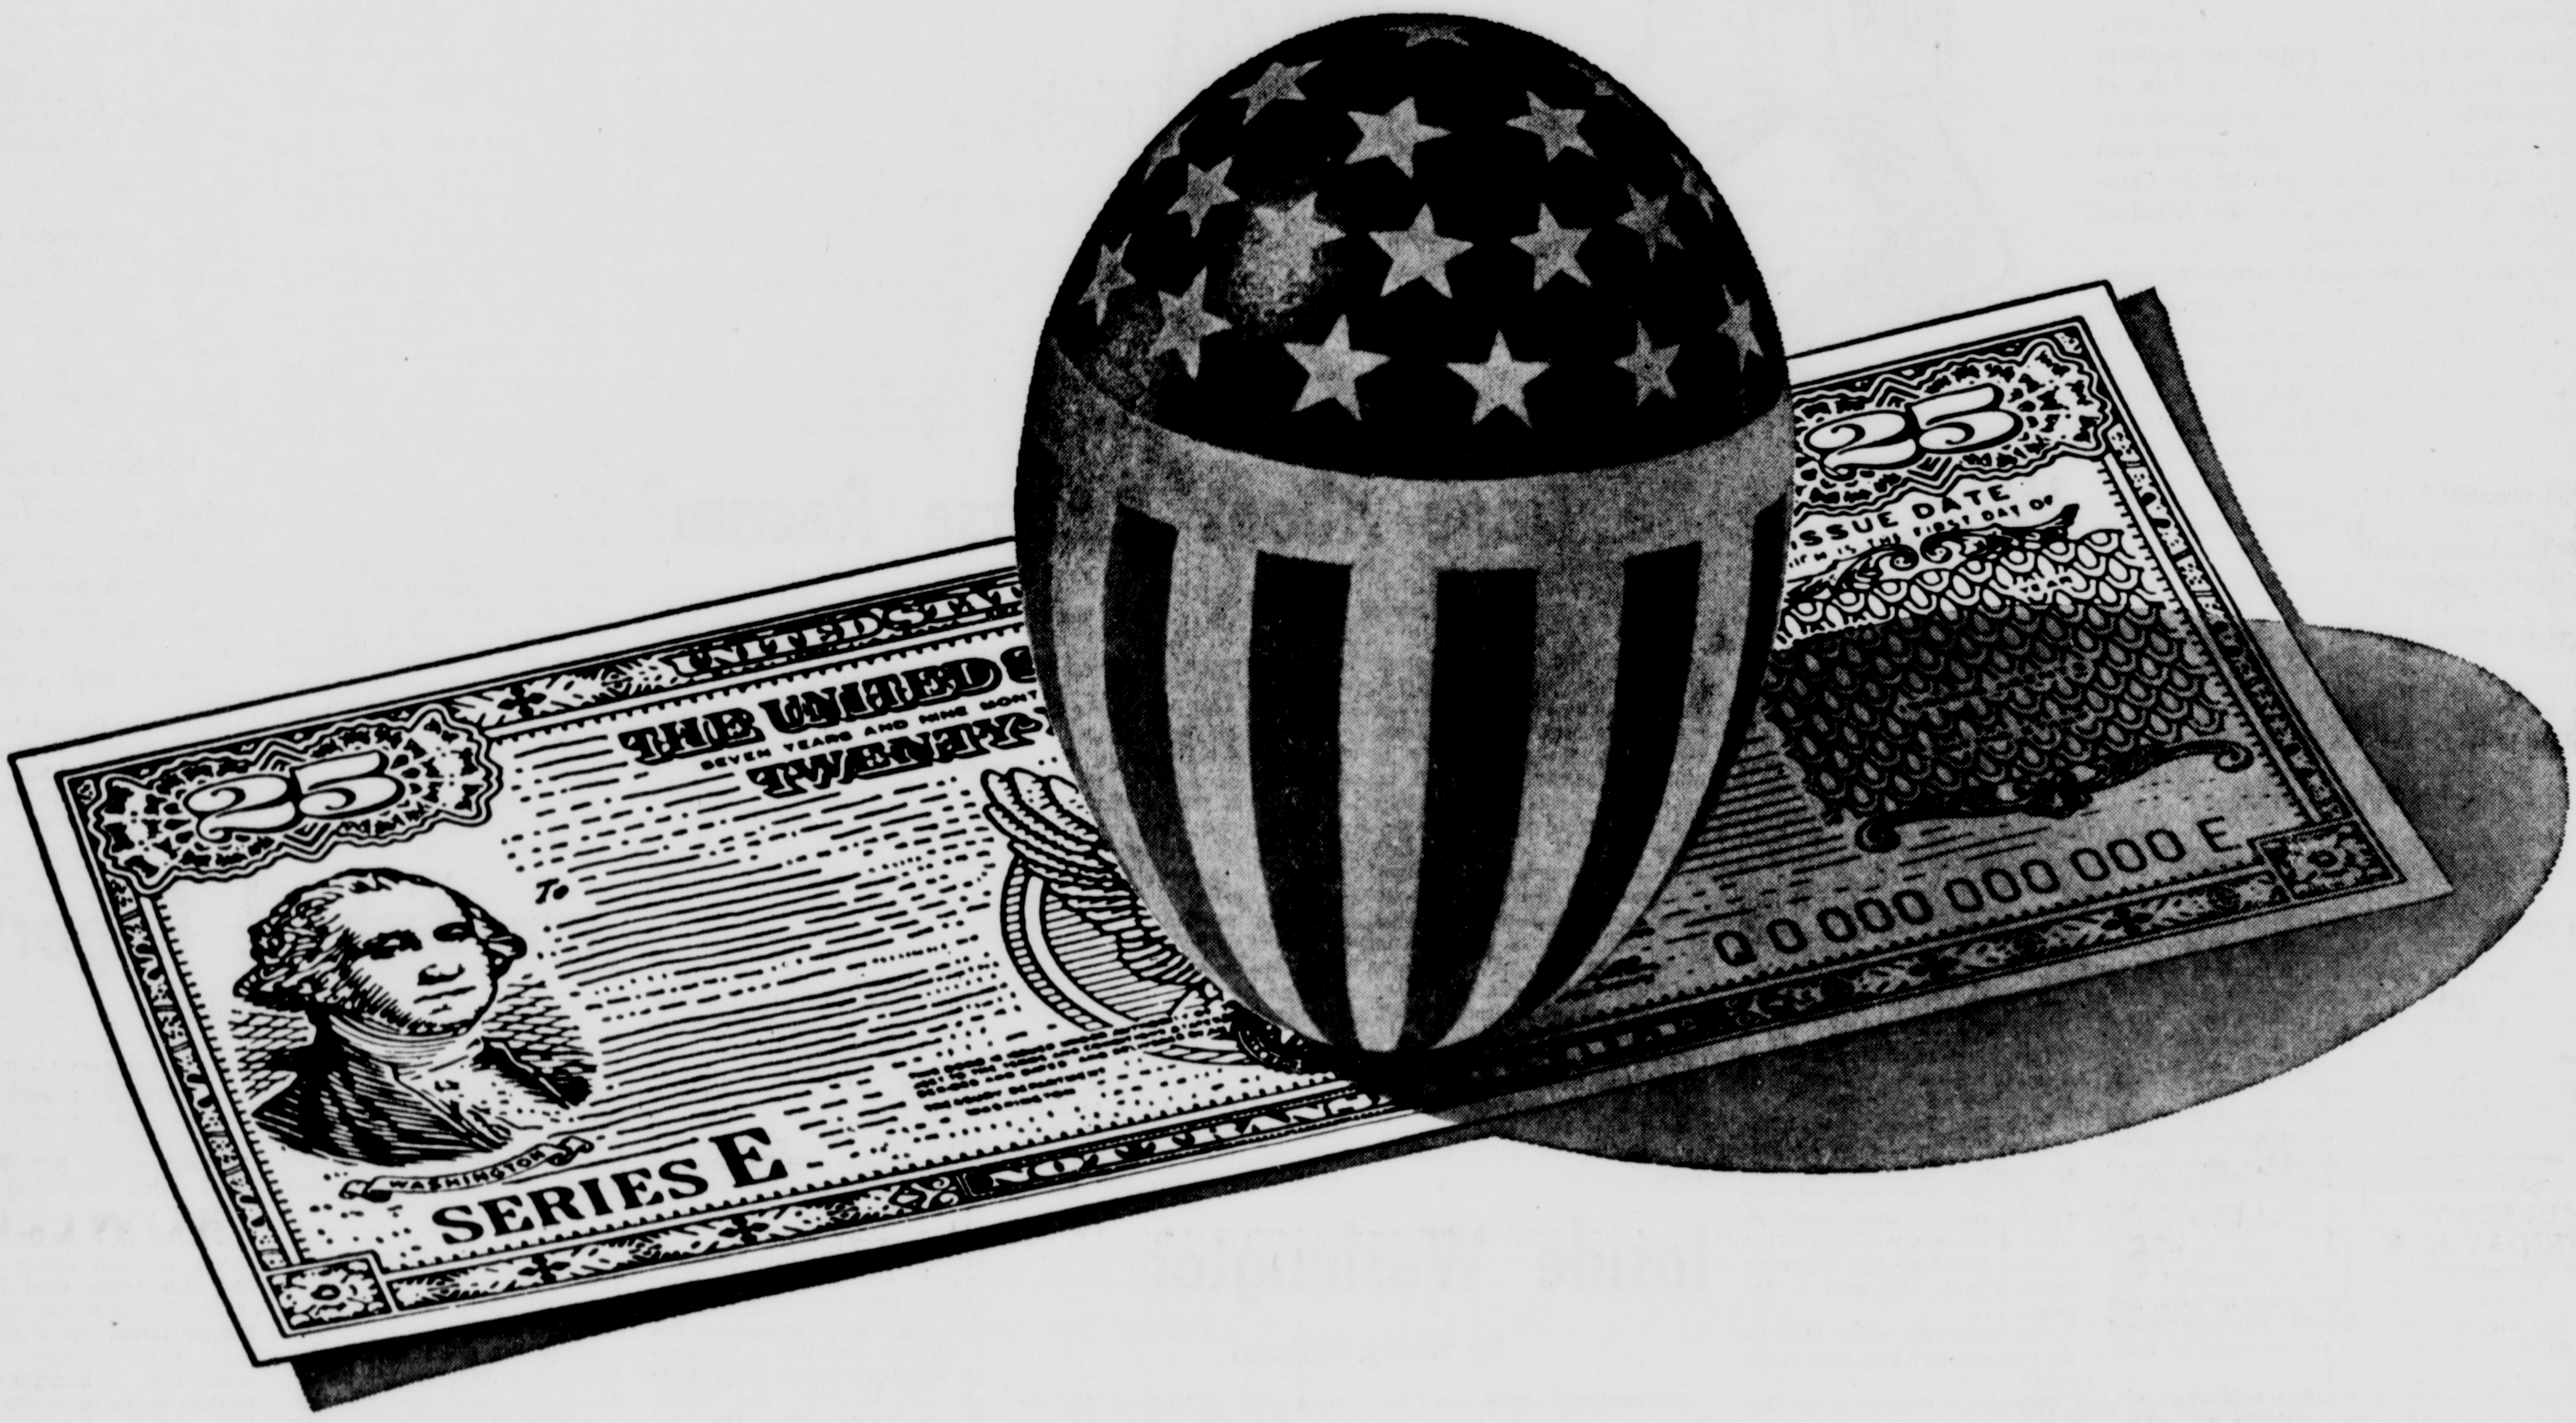
Boston may cut its tax rate for the fourth straight year, we read. Land of the Bean and the Cod—and the happiest tax payers?

Those thieves who made off with 150 alligators from a Louisiana snake farm probably found the job was no snap.

Americans consume a billion pounds of coffee annually—financial page item. Which reminds us—isn't it time for another break?



Red, white and blue nest egg

If you're like most Americans, you probably intend to use your Savings Bonds as a down payment on a house, to help send a child to college or otherwise upgrade your standard of living.

You don't need to feel one whit less patriotic because of this.

The fact that you and tens of millions of other Americans buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds helps Uncle Sam manage his financial affairs better and puts him in a position to be a stronger voice and a stronger power in the free world.

And the fact that you and these other millions of Americans have accumulated the savings you have —46 billions in E and H Savings Bonds alone—is one of the reasons why Americans are financially strong and reliant. And their individual strength is the strength of the nation.

When the communists make one of their favorite statements—that they're going to "bury us" economically—your savings and your support of your country are mighty powerful answers. Keep building both with U.S. Savings Bonds.

KEYSER — During the year July 1, 1962 ending June 30, 1963, the Keyser Rehabilitation office has assisted 90 disabled people in returning to useful, productive lives. William E. Jackson, senior counselor of the local office said that 90 handicapped people in Mineral, Grant and Hardy counties have received services through his office which returned them to their former job or to new employment.

In Mineral County, the local office worked with a total of 173 disabled persons during the past year. Of this number, 32 handicapped people completed their program of rehabilitation in receiving services which either corrected their disability, or training programs which trained them around the point of disability and are now working in accordance with their maximum ability. Moorefield PM Asks Cooperation For Mail Delivery

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Postmaster Glenn Evans requests patrons of the Moorefield post office who will be receiving door to door delivery when the service starts Saturday, August 17, to use street addresses on the return address of envelopes. He also asks that all correspondence contain the street address so that incoming mail will be addressed to the person and street address. Mr. Evans said this would aid in speedy distribution of incoming mail.

Evans also stated that the warning sign in front of the walk at the postoffice had been removed so it is no longer a hazard to motorists using the front parking lot. The sign had been hit so many times it was becoming battered, he observed.

Burton Sparks Cubs' 10-2 Win

Raps Two Homers Against Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Ellis Burton became the fifth player in National League history to hit home runs batting right- and left-handed in the same game as the Chicago Cubs bombed the Milwaukee Braves 10-2 Thursday night.

Steve Boros and Jim Schaffer also hit homers while Larry Jackson scattered eight hits for his 12th victory.

The switch-hitting Burton, a Braves farm hand last year at Toronto and Louisville, hit his first home run off left-hander Denny Lemaster in the first inning and his second off right-hander Ron Piche in the seventh.

Actually the feat had been achieved five times before—twice by Jim Russell of Boston and Brooklyn and once each by Augie Galan of Chicago, Red Schoendienst of St. Louis and Maury Wills of Los Angeles. Wills did it last season.

Burton Sparks Cubs' 10-2 Win

Raps Two Homers Against Braves

British Lead, 1-0

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Mike Sangster and Bobby Wilson came from behind Thursday to give Britain a 1-0 margin and the lead in the second match when play was halted in their European zone Davis Cup final with Sweden.

Sangster beat Jan Erik Lundqvist, 3-6, 6-2, 4-6, 12-10, 9-7, and Wilson was leading Ulf Schmidt 4-6, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 1-0 when play was halted at the agreed time.

Reds Obtain Gene Green

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds took another player Thursday who has accumulated considerable "doghouse" time.

They got outfielder-catcher-first baseman Gene Green from the Cleveland Indians for catcher Sammy Taylor and another player or cash at the end of the season.

Short Gap walloped Ellerslie, 16-3, and Patterson Creek edged Fort Ashby, 10-8, on their opponents' fields to remain tied for first place in the W.Va.-Md. Little League with 5-1 records.

Oldtown evened its log at 3-3 with a 5-1 triumph over Ridgeley on its home diamond.

The Parsons brothers made the big noise for Short Gap. Dave, Bill and Rich each homered, and the latter clubbed three doubles to boot. Jim Files also blasted a round-tripper for Short Gap. Royce Thompson belted a four-bagger, and Jerry Cook collected two singles for Ellerslie.

Patterson Creek, scoring eight runs in the second inning, was led by Ralph Weaver with a triple, double and single. Winning pitcher Charlie Kenney came through with a three-bagger and single. Sisk and Adams had three hits apiece for the losers.

Ken Haugh enjoyed a perfect day at the plate in three trips, and Clyde Twigg singled twice for Oldtown. Bradley and Stein accounted for all but one of Ridgeley's five safeties.

State Senator George Hughes, Jr. will address the crowd in a short program which will precede the game. The All-Star players and managers will be introduced individually.

U.S. Wallops West German Track Team

Cops 18 Of 21 Tests, Final Score 141-82

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—A power-packed United States team completed the rout of the young West German national track squad here Thursday 141-82, winning all but three of the 21 events on the two-day program.

It was the second post - war meeting of the two teams, and by far the most decisive Yankee victory. The Americans won 120-91 at Stuttgart, Germany, in 1961.

The Americans, foaming mad over bad press reviews in Moscow and Warsaw, won everything but the 10,000 meters on the final day, and all but the hammer throw and the 5,000 meters Wednesday.

It was the third European meet for the U.S. team, narrow victors in Russia and runaway winners in Poland. A meet next Saturday and Monday in London winds up the tour.

Bob Hayes, the Jacksonville, Fla., sprinter who runs like an angry bear, added the 200 meters to the 100 he won Wednesday, bulling the distance in 20.6 seconds, only one-tenth off the listed world mark.

The American 1,600 meter relay team, aiming for a world mark, fell a shade short with a 3:02.8 clocking, despite a 44.3 seconds anchor leg by Henry Carr, the greatest 400 relay leg ever run.

Receiving Is Winner In Kelly League, 7-4

Receiving defeated Final Finish yesterday in a Kelly-Springfield Softball League game at County Field by the score of 7-4.

The winners racked up 10 hits, including circuit belts by George Harpold and Fabbri. Denny Norris collected a double and single and Kallmyer rapped a triple. Ronnie Nield, losing pitcher, struck out seven.

Price Tosses No-Hit Game For Toy Shop

Righthander Dave Price, although bothered somewhat by wildness, hurled the first no-hit game of the High School Rec Baseball League season yesterday as Toy Shop downed Bernstein's, 7-1, at Municipal Field.

Onrushing Gurley's chalked up its fifth straight win, turning back league-leading VFW, 4-3, at Fort Hill Field.

Price, who walked seven batsmen and hit one with a pitch while striking out eight, lost his shutout in the fifth when Bernstein's combined a walk, fielder's choice and an error for one run. Catcher Jim Arrowood prevented further trouble by throwing out four Bernstein's base runners.

Olin Perkins smacked a double and two singles, Wayne Jewell tagged a pair of two-baggers, and Jim Mertens had a double and single to lead Toy Shop's ten-hit assault.

Bill Rawnsley twirled a six-hitter for Gurley's, pitching scoreless ball from the fourth inning on. The righthander walked only two and fanned nine.

Al Delbrugge went three-for-four, with adouble included, and Mike Sawyers had two hits for Gurley's. Henry obtained a pair of safeties, and Tom Keyser doubled for VFW.

The linescores:

AT FORT HILL:

Gurley's .... 012 010 0—4 8 3

College Stars, NFL Packers Clash Tonight

Pros Are Favored In Chicago Game

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars and the favored Green Bay Packers, two-time champions of the National Football League, will clash in Soldier Field Friday night before a crowd of 75,000.

The forecast is for partly cloudy weather with a high in the 80s and thundershowers are expected in late afternoon and early evening.

The game will be broadcast and televised, starting at 8:45 p.m. EST (ABC).

Green Bay, a 42-20 winner over the 1962 All-Stars, is favored by 14½ points. Reports of injuries to linebacker Ray Nitschke and fullback Jim Taylor caused a drop in the odds.

Nitschke has a twisted back and probably will miss the game entirely. Coach Vince Lombardi insists Taylor is in shape and will start although reports persist he has trouble with his knee and will not see much action.

National Football League observers will not only be watching the 50-man all-star squad, 40 of whom will embark for NFL camps and 10 for the American Football League, but also will size up the Packers for their drive to win a third straight championship.

Green Bay traded away defensive end Bill Quinlan and will be without the services of star halfback Paul Hornung, who was suspended for at least one year for gambling.

Bart Starr, who threw a record five touchdown passes in last year's All-Star game, will head the Packer attack. Halfback Tom Moore will run in Hornung's place and Earl Gros will fill in when Taylor is not playing. Jerry Kramer, a guard, will take on extra point and field goal kicking duties.

The All-Stars, whose pass defenses failed them last year, have emphasized assigning taller men to guard Green Bay receivers. Head coach Otto Graham will have Kermit Alexander of UCLA, Larry Glueck of Villanova, Tommy Janick of Texas A. & I., Lonnie Sanders of Michigan State, Chuck Morris, Glynn Griffing and Louis Guy of Mississippi in his defensive backfield.

Frostburg Eagles Blast Lions, 18-7

Blasting away for ten runs in the third inning, the Eagles moved out of the Frostburg Little League cellar yesterday with an 18-7 triumph over the Lions.

Both teams had 11 hits, but the Lions committed seven errors to help the Eagles to their fourth win against ten losses. The Lions dropped to 6-8.

Francis Scarpelli rapped a double and single for the winners, and Johnny Williams collected a pair of base hits for the Lions.

Short Gap walloped Ellerslie, 16-3, and Patterson Creek edged Fort Ashby, 10-8, on their opponents' fields to remain tied for first place in the W.Va.-Md. Little League with 5-1 records.

Oldtown evened its log at 3-3 with a 5-1 triumph over Ridgeley on its home diamond.

The Parsons brothers made the big noise for Short Gap. Dave, Bill and Rich each homered, and the latter clubbed three doubles to boot. Jim Files also blasted a round-tripper for Short Gap. Royce Thompson belted a four-bagger, and Jerry Cook collected two singles for Ellerslie.

Patterson Creek, scoring eight runs in the second inning, was led by Ralph Weaver with a triple, double and single. Winning pitcher Charlie Kenney came through with a three-bagger and single. Sisk and Adams had three hits apiece for the losers.

Dapper Dan Little League All-Star Game Set Today

Val DeArcangelis, Ellsworth Managers; Contest At 6:30

The annual Dapper Dan Little League All-Star Game will be held today at 6:30 p.m. at Penn Avenue Field with the Dans opposing the Dappers in a nine-inning affair. Each player will play three innings.

Each of the 16 teams selected three players to represent their team. The managers of each All-Star group selected three additional players to round out the squads.

Jim Ellsworth, manager of last year's Dapper Division victors, the Cardinals, will handle the Dapper Stars. Val DeArcangelis, manager of the Dan Division champs, the Tigers, will pilot the Dan Stars.

An autographed baseball will be presented to the first boy on each team who hits a home run.

State Senator George Hughes, Jr. will address the crowd in a short program which will precede the game. The All-Star players and managers will be introduced individually.

Tickets may be purchased from any Little Leaguer and proceeds from the game will be used to help finance the operation of the league.

All players are to report at 5:30 p.m. for a pre-game workout.

U.S. Wallops West German Track Team

Cops 18 Of 21 Tests, Final Score 141-82

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—A power-packed United States team completed the rout of the young West German national track squad here Thursday 141-82, winning all but three of the 21 events on the two-day program.

It was the second post-war meeting of the two teams, and by far the most decisive Yankee victory. The Americans won 120-91 at Stuttgart, Germany, in 1961.

The Americans, foaming mad over bad press reviews in Moscow and Warsaw, won everything but the 10,000 meters on the final day, and all but the hammer throw and the 5,000 meters Wednesday.

It was the third European meet for the U.S. team, narrow victors in Russia and runaway winners in Poland. A meet next Saturday and Monday in London winds up the tour.

Bob Hayes, the Jacksonville, Fla., sprinter who runs like an angry bear, added the 200 meters to the 100 he won Wednesday, bulling the distance in 20.6 seconds, only one-tenth off the listed world mark.

The American 1,600 meter relay team, aiming for a world mark, fell a shade short with a 3:02.8 clocking, despite a 44.3 seconds anchor leg by Henry Carr, the greatest 400 relay leg ever run.

Receiving Is Winner In Kelly League, 7-4

Receiving defeated Final Finish yesterday in a Kelly-Springfield Softball League game at County Field by the score of 7-4.

The winners racked up 10 hits, including circuit belts by George Harpold and Fabbri. Denny Norris collected a double and single and Kallmyer rapped a triple. Ronnie Nield, losing pitcher, struck out seven.

Score:

Final Finish .... 001 201 0—4 5 0
Receiving .... 021 121 x—7 10 0

Ronnie Nield and Glenn Twigg. George Harpold, Fabbri (3), Barley (5) and Twigg.

Price Tosses No-Hit Game For Toy Shop

Righthander Dave Price, although bothered somewhat by wildness, hurled the first no-hit game of the High School Rec Baseball League season yesterday as Toy Shop downed Bernstein's, 7-1, at Municipal Field.

Onrushing Gurley's chalked up its fifth straight win, turning back league-leading VFW, 4-3, at Fort Hill Field.

Price, who walked seven batsmen and hit one with a pitch while striking out eight, lost his shutout in the fifth when Bernstein's combined a walk, fielder's choice and an error for one run. Catcher Jim Arrowood prevented further trouble by throwing out four Bernstein's base runners.

Olin Perkins smacked a double and two singles, Wayne Jewell tagged a pair of two-baggers, and Jim Mertens had a double and single to lead Toy Shop's ten-hit assault.

Bill Rawnsley twirled a six-hitter for Gurley's, pitching scoreless ball from the fourth inning on. The righthander walked only two and fanned nine.

Al Delbrugge went three-for-four, with adouble included, and Mike Sawyers had two hits for Gurley's. Henry obtained a pair of safeties, and Tom Keyser doubled for VFW.

The linescores:

AT FORT HILL:

Gurley's .... 012 010 0—4 8 3
V. F. W. .... 210 000 x—3 6 3

Bill Rawnsley and Mike Sawyers, Jimmie Graham (2). Larry Wolfe, Howard Reynolds (3) and Tommy Keyser.

College Stars, NFL Packers Clash Tonight

Pros Are Favored In Chicago Game

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars and the favored Green Bay Packers, two-time champions of the National Football League, will clash in Soldier Field Friday night before a crowd of 75,000.

The forecast is for partly cloudy weather with a high in the 80s and thundershowers are expected in late afternoon and early evening.

The game will be broadcast and televised, starting at 8:45 p.m. EST (ABC).

Green Bay, a 42-20 winner over the 1962 All-Stars, is favored by 14½ points. Reports of injuries to linebacker Ray Nitschke and fullback Jim Taylor caused a drop in the odds.

Nitschke has a twisted back and probably will miss the game entirely. Coach Vince Lombardi insists Taylor is in shape and will start although reports persist he has trouble with his knee and will not see much action.

National Football League observers will not only be watching the 50-man all-star squad, 40 of whom will embark for NFL camps and 10 for the American Football League, but also will size up the Packers for their drive to win a third straight championship.

Green Bay traded away defensive end Bill Quinlan and will be without the services of star halfback Paul Hornung, who was suspended for at least one year for gambling.

Bart Starr, who threw a record five touchdown passes in last year's All-Star game, will head the Packer attack. Halfback Tom Moore will run in Hornung's place and Earl Gros will fill in when Taylor is not playing. Jerry Kramer, a guard, will take on extra point and field goal kicking duties.

The All-Stars, whose pass defenses failed them last year, have emphasized assigning taller men to guard Green Bay receivers. Head coach Otto Graham will have Kermit Alexander of UCLA, Larry Glueck of Villanova, Tommy Janick of Texas A. & I., Lonnie Sanders of Michigan State, Chuck Morris, Glynn Griffing and Louis Guy of Mississippi in his defensive backfield.

Frostburg Eagles Blast Lions, 18-7

Blasting away for ten runs in the third inning, the Eagles moved out of the Frostburg Little League cellar yesterday with an 18-7 triumph over the Lions.

Both teams had 11 hits, but the Lions committed seven errors to help the Eagles to their fourth win against ten losses. The Lions dropped to 6-8.

Francis Scarpelli rapped a double and single for the winners, and Johnny Williams collected a pair of base hits for the Lions.

Record 239 Boys Will Compete In Soap Box Derby

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Excitement continued to mount Thursday for a record field of 239 boys awaiting the moment signaling the start of the 26th All-American Soap Box Derby.

The buildup will reach its peak Saturday at 1:15 p.m., when starting line barriers go down and the first heat of three contestants begin rolling down a steep incline in their homemade gravity-powered cars.

To the young entries, the event is just as important as the Indianapolis 500. They will be competing for a share of $30,000 in college scholarship prizes. The 1963 champion will receive a $7,500 scholarship to the college of his choice. Second prize is $5,000.

The drivers, whose ages range from 11 to 15, represent 45 states and six foreign countries—Canada, West Germany, Okinawa, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Venezuela.

Dan Senators Score Over Athletics, 8-6

Crump, John Wayland and Nelson Carroll had two hits each, Danny Whetzel slammed a triple and Jimmie Keating smacked a double for the winners. Green paced the A's with a double and single.

Bill Green and Harry Grove, A's pitchers, struck out nine.

Score:

Athletics	140	001—6	5	2
Senators	061	01x—8	11	2

Green, Grove (4) and Petenbrink. Steve Drenning, Jimmie Crump (3), Nelson Carroll (6) and Carroll, Ed Plummer (6). WP—Crump. LP—Green.

Record 239 Boys Will Compete In Soap Box Derby

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Excitement continued to mount Thursday for a record field of 239 boys awaiting the moment signaling the start of the 26th All-American Soap Box Derby.

The buildup will reach its peak Saturday at 1:15 p.m., when starting line barriers go down and the first heat of three contestants begin rolling down a steep incline in their homemade gravity-powered cars.

To the young entries, the event is just as important as the Indianapolis 500. They will be competing for a share of $30,000 in college scholarship prizes. The 1963 champion will receive a $7,500 scholarship to the college of his choice. Second prize is $5,000.

The drivers, whose ages range from 11 to 15, represent 45 states and six foreign countries—Canada, West Germany, Okinawa, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Venezuela.

New York Stock Market Dips On Reduced Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished with a small loss Thursday when an early small advance petered out over the noon hour.

However, buyers hadn't completely left the market and came back near the close in sufficient numbers to stem falls.

Dow - Jones industrials were off 0.56 to 694.87 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index dipped 0.06. Trading lagged at 3,410,000 shares compared with the 3,960,000 shares which changed hands Wednesday.

Of the 1,295 issues traded, 604 declined, 39 to new 1963 lows and 396 advanced, 24 to new highs.

Chrysler was the market's most active issue, dipping ⅜ to 57 on a turnover of 188,300 shares.

Airline issues dominated the active roster with National up 1⅝, Eastern up 1⅜, Pan American up 1½, American up ⅞ and Continental up ¼.

High-flying Polaroid also made the most active list with a gain of 4½ in continued response to news of the sale of its new camera.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — The old crop contracts of wheat and soybeans ended weak while other grain futures were steady to firm Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off 1¼ to up ⅞; corn up ¼ to ½; oats unchanged to up ¼; rye off ⅜ to ⅛; and soybeans unchanged to off 1⅝.

Most wheat futures felt the pressure of hedging and a let-up in buying by flour mills.

Corn derived strength from firm spot prices and export buying.

Steady liquidation on favorable crop and weather reports held nearby soybean deliveries down, but the new crop rallied from early lows to close steady on commission and local buying.

Soybean oil futures tumbled in early trade 4 to 12 points to new seasonal lows under heavy liquidation. Distant contracts recovered. Meal was mostly higher.

Oats held steady on commission buying balanced by local and northwest selling.

Rye steadied in featureless trade.

New York Stock Market Dips On Reduced Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished with a small loss Thursday when an early small advance petered out over the noon hour.

However, buyers hadn't completely left the market and came back near the close in sufficient numbers to stem falls.

Dow - Jones industrials were off 0.56 to 694.87 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index dipped 0.06. Trading lagged at 3,410,000 shares compared with the 3,960,000 shares which changed hands Wednesday.

Of the 1,295 issues traded, 604 declined, 39 to new 1963 lows and 396 advanced, 24 to new highs.

Chrysler was the market's most active issue, dipping ⅜ to 57 on a turnover of 188,300 shares.

Airline issues dominated the active roster with National up 1⅝, Eastern up 1⅜, Pan American up 1½, American up ⅞ and Continental up ¼.

High-flying Polaroid also made the most active list with a gain of 4½ in continued response to news of the sale of its new camera.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — The old crop contracts of wheat and soybeans ended weak while other grain futures were steady to firm Thursday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off 1¼ to up ⅞; corn up ¼ to ½; oats unchanged to up ¼; rye off ⅜ to ⅛; and soybeans unchanged to off 1⅝.

Most wheat futures felt the pressure of hedging and a let-up in buying by flour mills.

Corn derived strength from firm spot prices and export buying.

Steady liquidation on favorable crop and weather reports held nearby soybean deliveries down, but the new crop rallied from early lows to close steady on commission and local buying.

Soybean oil futures tumbled in early trade 4 to 12 points to new seasonal lows under heavy liquidation. Distant contracts recovered. Meal was mostly higher.

Oats held steady on commission buying balanced by local and northwest selling.

Rye steadied in featureless trade.

Gravel Being Moved From Creek Channel

Three city departments are removing gravel from the upper section of the Wills Creek channel.

Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, said the Street Department, the flood maintenance crews, and the airport maintenance forces are removing the accumulation of sand and gravel from the concrete floor of the channel.

The loads of sand and gravel are being hauled to the Municipal Baseball Park on Offutt Street for use as a parking lot and an access road.

Nuzum said the accumulation ranges from fine sand to stones as big as a fist, and the combination makes a good foundation for surfacing.

Trucks are being furnished by the three departments and are loaded with a front-end loader of the Street Department.

Gravel Being Moved From Creek Channel

Three city departments are removing gravel from the upper section of the Wills Creek channel.

Charles R. Nuzum, city engineer, said the Street Department, the flood maintenance crews, and the airport maintenance forces are removing the accumulation of sand and gravel from the concrete floor of the channel.

The loads of sand and gravel are being hauled to the Municipal Baseball Park on Offutt Street for use as a parking lot and an access road.

Nuzum said the accumulation ranges from fine sand to stones as big as a fist, and the combination makes a good foundation for surfacing.

Trucks are being furnished by the three departments and are loaded with a front-end loader of the Street Department.

George Street Change Called Vital Project

Freight Station Plans On Tap

The proposed George Street Urban Renewal area project will protect the vital core of the city's business section from encroaching blight, and will alleviate traffic congestion by allowing the construction of the first section of the proposed loop system, the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency noted in its application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The application was for approval of the project, first phase of the larger General Neighborhood Renewal Plan proposed for the business and commercial heart of the city.

The George Street Urban Renewal area, located on the eastern edge of the central business district, is bounded on the north by Bedford Street, on the east by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks, on the south by Williams Street and on the west by George Street.

Will Protect Core

Renewal treatment within the 24 - acre project area, the CURA application said, will protect the major retail core area on Baltimore Street from encroaching blight.

It contains, the agency said, structures which are among the oldest in the city, the majority having been built before 1900.

The area contains a variety of mixed usage including railroad freight terminal and yards which have a blighting influence on the surrounding area. Other buildings have been condemned for occupancy above the first floor.

One of the major contributing factors to the blight and deterioration within the proposed project area, and particularly the business district, is traffic congestion, poor circulation traffic and the location of B & O tracks which form a barrier for traffic movement, the application said.

Propose Loop Street

Redevelopment of the area, CURA said, will not only remove blighted and deteriorating buildings but alleviate traffic congestion by allowing the construction of the first section of a loop street between Bedford and Williams Street.

Of the 46 structures in the area, at least 19 have been found to have deficiencies, CURA reported.

It said deficiencies are of such a nature that no sizable or significant area is without such blight that it can be eliminated from the project.

The B&O freight station was listed as an example. The application said the station, due to age, lack of maintenance and repair, and use has a blighting influence on the surrounding area, and its inclusion is vital to the achievement of urban renewal objectives, adding:

B&O To Vacate

"Further, it is the intention of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to vacate the existing freight house and yards and to move these facilities south within the major switching area.

"Plans for this relocation have been prepared by the railroad. These plans include the vacation of all but three main line tracks and the consolidation of all switching south of Baltimore Street."

"With the complete abandonment of the freight station and yards, blight will persist to an even greater degree from which renewal treatment of the surrounding area could not be protected.

"Inclusion of this area will also provide an excellent site of sufficient size for major commercial reuse . . .

Asks Planning Grant

Liaison has been established with the State Roads Commission, the application said, to coordinate construction currently under way and upcoming Thruway construction with project construction such as the loop street.

The local agency also asked the Home Finance Agency to advance $122,366 to allow the agency to make surveys and prepare plans for the urban renewal project.

Approval of the application, which is now undergoing HHFA review in Philadelphia, would also result in the agency setting aside funds for a capital grant for the actual project.

New County Librarian Assumes His Duties Here

Rollin P. Marquis began his duties yesterday as librarian of the Allegany County Library succeeding Miss Mary G. Walsh, who retired a month ago after some 40 years of service as librarian of first the Cumberland and eventually the countywide library.

Mr. Marquis, a native of Badin, N.C., comes here after four years as librarian of the River Edge (N.J.) Free Public Library. Before that he served in 1958 and 1959 as director of the Citizens Library of Washington, Pa.

The new librarian here studied at Bard College in New York State and received his A.B. degree from Columbia University. He studied at Oxford from 1948 until 1950. In 1958 he was graduated from the Carnegie Library School of the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Marquis, his wife and three children are living on Valley View Drive in LaVale.

He spent his first day on the job in the main library on Washington Street opposite the Court House. Serving under his direction are 16 full-time library employes. Nine of them are at the main library, two each at the Pennsylvania Avenue, LaVale and Frostburg branches and one at the Westernport branch.

While reviewing the library activities yesterday, Mr. Marquis came upon a report on library circulation for the month of June. Some 5,800 books were circulated out of the main library, 3,800 through the bookmobile and 3,600 through the Frostburg branch.

Annual Games Day Held By Playgrounds

Twelve prizes were awarded by the Cumberland Recreation Department at the annual Intra-City Games Day held yesterday at North End Playground.

In the box hockey tournaments, Corvin Banks, Pine Avenue, was the winner in the 6-9 age group; Francis Footer Mapleside, 9-12, and a playoff was scheduled today at Columbia Street between Tom Crabtree, Columbia Street, and Ron Roland, Penn Avenue. The playoff was set after contestants' hands became too sore to continue the play.

Checkers champions are Jerry Matthews, Gephart, in the 6-8 age group; Scott Deneen, Pine Avenue, 9-12, and Donald Llewellyn, Johnson Heights, 13 years up.

Kalah champions on the playgrounds are Joseph Sims, Pine Avenue, 6-8; Barbara Hankins, North End, 9-12, and Susie Dennison, Gephart, 13 years up.

Playground directors served as officials of the tournament.

Police Cite Money Order Gyp

State Police at LaVale Barracks yesterday received a Teletype message from the Baltimore Police Department warning business establishments of the area in regard to altered money orders. The business proprietors are being alerted to pay attention to all money orders including personal money orders from Hutzler Brothers, Hochschild Kohn Company, Stewarts and Company, American Express and North American money orders.

The Baltimore police explained that persons are purchasing money orders in the amount of 50 cents, $1, and $1.50 and altering them to increase the amount.

Two Local Women Attend Workshop

Mrs. Albert Cedel, 131 Cumberland Street, and Mrs. Norbert N. Mueller, 110 Winchester Road, kindergarten teachers from Trinity Lutheran Church, recently attended a kindergarten workshop at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill. The workshop was held July 1-13, announced Rev. John C. Polk, pastor of Trinity Lutheran.

The two teachers worked with recognized specialists in kindergarten teaching, including Miss Morella Mensing, M. A., of River Forest, author of "The Christian Kindergarten," and Miss Dorothea Feil, M. A., of Albany, Ore.

All phases of kindergarten activity were treated at the workshop, and a new approach to reading readiness was discussed.

Also of much interest to the teachers was a lecture delivered by Dr. Paul J. Dunn on the Montessori method of teaching. Dr. Dunn is director of the Alcuin Montessori School, Oak Park, Ill., and Mrs. Cedel and Mrs. Mueller spent an afternoon at the school talking with him.

Rev. Mr. Polk said that a few openings are still available for both morning and afternoon sessions at Trinity Lutheran kindergarten, and that parents interested in enrolling their children should call either 724-0769 or 724-4888.

Leave Hospital

June LaVonne Blank, 14, of Manassas, Va., and Lorraine Colmer, 15, of Pekin, who were injured in a one-car accident Wednesday evening on the Klondyke Road about a half-mile west of Maryland Route 36, were discharged yesterday from Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

Jail Conditions Near Normal After Escapade

Conditions were back to normal yesterday at the Allegany County Jail after a near riot Wednesday night in which some of the approximately 30 inmates tore up bedsheets, ripped mattresses and let water faucets run unchecked.

Deputies of Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein quelled the disorders.

One thing which helped ease tensions yesterday was a reduction in the jail population. Deputy Sheriff George B. Staup took two teen-age boys from Lonaconing to the Maryland Institution for Men, where they were sentenced by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey to terms not to exceed three years each.

John David Lease, 16, was sentenced July 25 by Judge Cobey on three charges of breaking and entering. John Earl Martin, 19, was sentenced Wednesday by Judge Cobey on one charge of breaking and entering and a second charge of attempted breaking and entering.

This morning, Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis is scheduled to take Donald Lee Festerman, 28, formerly of 833 Glenwood Street, back to the Maryland Penitentiary where he was sentenced to four years in May on a forgery charge. Festerman was brought back to Cumberland late in June to stand trial on a carnal knowledge charge involving a 15-year-old local girl. He was convicted of that charge July 12 and on Wednesday Judge Cobey sentenced him to one year in House of Correction, to be served after the penitentiary term is completed.

Sheriff Haberlein commented several weeks ago that he hoped some of the young jail inmates would be tried promptly so they could be freed or moved to some other institution.

The inmates were placed on short rations instead of the usual hot meals because of some of the misbehavior. Yesterday their regular food was restored.

Boy, 13, Dies In Fall From Truck

A 13-year-old Bedford County boy died yesterday after falling out of the bed of a pickup truck which was traveling along Route 529 in Coaldale Borough.

Authorities said Terry Steven Folk, of Six-Mile Run, died en route to a doctor's office. Death was attributed to a fractured skull.

Young Folk was riding in the bed of the truck being operated by William F. Mills, 50, also of Six Mile Run.

The driver was traveling west and had negotiated a left curve on the road when the youth lost his balance, toppled off the rear of the vehicle and struck his head on the asphalt road.

Police said the driver heard the boy scream as he toppled from the truck. He was a son of John and Ann Folk. The accident occurred at 2:30 p. m., police said.

Casselman Bridge Musical Event To Be Repeated

The musical program highlighting the sesquicentennial of the Casselman River Bridge at Grantsville will be presented on Saturday, August 17.

This program was first presented on Saturday, July 20. It was to have been presented at the foot of the 150-year-old bridge but rain that night forced the program into the auditorium of the Grantsville Elementary School.

Charles Sager, professor of music at Frostburg State College, who directed the 100-voice chorus at the first performance, has consented to be in charge again for the repeat performance outdoors.

Unit Plans Picnic

The annual Davis Memorial Sunday school picnic will be held at the church grounds Saturday, beginning at 2 p.m.

During the afternoon, games will be conducted for children and sports for the youth.

Explains College Report

Hardesty Sees Broader Scope At Frostburg

Faculty To Get More Professors

A broadened educational program can be expected at Frostburg State College now that the word "Teachers" has been dropped from its title.

That is the opinion of R. Bowen Hardesty, president of the institution which became Frostburg State College July 1. He was guest speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Simply changing the name will not change the college, Mr. Hardesty cautioned. He cited some of the changes that are resulting from the changed name. He pointed out that five more professors are being added to the faculty for the new school year.

Majors can be offered in philosophy, sociology, economics, political science, speech and anthropology now, he added.

22 More On Faculty

Actually, the college faculty is being increased by 22 members for the coming school year and replacements are being found for 10 others who were on the faculty last year. Mr. Hardesty said Frostburg is competing against Princeton, Yale and the U. S. Office of Education in obtaining new faculty members.

The college can expect more books for its library and more land for expansion as a state college. The goal is to expand the college campus from its present 45 or 50 acres to some 450 acres, enough land to serve an enrollment of 5,000 that can be anticipated in the next 75 to 100 years. Some 160 acres has been acquired and 200 to 225 acres more are being sought.

Mr. Hardesty cited some of the ways in which quality education will be stressed at Frostburg. Reading from the "100 Great Books" will be encouraged. Seminars will be established in the junior year for those students planning graduate work.

Project Required

A major project will be required in each student's senior year, designed to pull together the learning of four years at Frostburg. Acceleration will be encouraged. He emphasized that some young people coming to Frostburg from particularly good high schools in Montgomery, Baltimore and Prince George's counties already have done the equivalent of college freshman work. Some of them readily can complete their undergraduate studies at Frostburg in three to three-and-one-half years.

The college president predicted that more out-of-state and some foreign students will be attracted to Frostburg by the change in emphasis.

Mr. Hardesty said he thought it was fortunate for Western Maryland that William L. Wilson, Cumberland attorney, has been named as the first chairman of the new State College Board of Trustees, as he can be expected to look out for the interests of the college in Frostburg.

In a period of questions and answers at the end of the program, the college president acknowledged that education at Frostburg may become more costly.

"We don't want to price young people out of an education," he stressed.

The speaker concluded his remarks with a hope that the state college in Frostburg may eventually become a small university of Western Maryland.

Man Questioned As Suspect In Woodland Fire

Authorities yesterday afternoon arrested a man and questioned him in connection with the fire which destroyed a 12-room dwelling in Woodland Wednesday morning and threatened two other buildings, including one which pre-dates the Civil War.

Tfc. Bernard J. Chabot, criminal investigator for the State Police at LaVale Barracks, and Deputy Sheriffs William Orr and George Staup arrested the man. He was being questioned last night by Trooper Chabot.

The dwelling was the property of Christopher Kaefer, who is reported visiting in Florida.

Volunteer firemen from Midland answered a call at 3 a. m. and shortly afterwards were joined by volunteers of Shaft who kept the flames from destroying two other buildings near the dwelling.

Rollin P. Marquis began his duties yesterday as librarian of the Allegany County Library succeeding Miss Mary G. Walsh, who retired a month ago after some 40 years of service as librarian of first the Cumberland and eventually the countywide library.

Mr. Marquis, a native of Badin, N.C., comes here after four years as librarian of the River Edge (N.J.) Free Public Library. Before that he served in 1958 and 1959 as director of the Citizens Library of Washington, Pa.

The new librarian here studied at Bard College in New York State and received his A.B. degree from Columbia University. He studied at Oxford from 1948 until 1950. In 1958 he was graduated from the Carnegie Library School of the University of Pittsburgh.

Nine of them are at the main library, two each at the Pennsylvania Avenue, LaVale and Frostburg branches and one at the Westernport branch.

While reviewing the library activities yesterday, Mr. Marquis came upon a report on library circulation for the month of June. Some 5,800 books were circulated out of the main library, 3,800 through the bookmobile and 3,600 through the Frostburg branch.

The workshop was held July 1-13, announced Rev. John C. Polk, pastor of Trinity Lutheran.

The two teachers worked with recognized specialists in kindergarten teaching, including Miss Morella Mensing, M. A., of River Forest, author of "The Christian Kindergarten," and Miss Dorothea Feil, M. A., of Albany, Ore.

Leave Hospital

June LaVonne Blank, 14, of Manassas, Va., and Lorraine Colmer, 15, of Pekin, who were injured in a one-car accident Wednesday evening on the Klondyke Road about a half-mile west of Maryland Route 36, were discharged yesterday from Miners Hospital, Frostburg.

Jail Conditions Near Normal After Escapade

Conditions were back to normal yesterday at the Allegany County Jail after a near riot Wednesday night in which some of the approximately 30 inmates tore up bedsheets, ripped mattresses and let water faucets run unchecked.

Deputies of Sheriff Paul C. Haberlein quelled the disorders.

One thing which helped ease tensions yesterday was a reduction in the jail population. Deputy Sheriff George B. Staup took two teen-age boys from Lonaconing to the Maryland Institution for Men, where they were sentenced by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey to terms not to exceed three years each.

John David Lease, 16, was sentenced July 25 by Judge Cobey on three charges of breaking and entering. John Earl Martin, 19, was sentenced Wednesday by Judge Cobey on one charge of breaking and entering and a second charge of attempted breaking and entering.

This morning, Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis is scheduled to take Donald Lee Festerman, 28, formerly of 833 Glenwood Street, back to the Maryland Penitentiary where he was sentenced to four years in May on a forgery charge. Festerman was brought back to Cumberland late in June to stand trial on a carnal knowledge charge involving a 15-year-old local girl. He was convicted of that charge July 12 and on Wednesday Judge Cobey sentenced him to one year in House of Correction, to be served after the penitentiary term is completed.

Sheriff Haberlein commented several weeks ago that he hoped some of the young jail inmates would be tried promptly so they could be freed or moved to some other institution.

The inmates were placed on short rations instead of the usual hot meals because of some of the misbehavior. Yesterday their regular food was restored.

Boy, 13, Dies In Fall From Truck

A 13-year-old Bedford County boy died yesterday after falling out of the bed of a pickup truck which was traveling along Route 529 in Coaldale Borough.

Authorities said Terry Steven Folk, of Six-Mile Run, died en route to a doctor's office. Death was attributed to a fractured skull.

Young Folk was riding in the bed of the truck being operated by William F. Mills, 50, also of Six Mile Run.

The driver was traveling west and had negotiated a left curve on the road when the youth lost his balance, toppled off the rear of the vehicle and struck his head on the asphalt road.

Police said the driver heard the boy scream as he toppled from the truck. He was a son of John and Ann Folk. The accident occurred at 2:30 p. m., police said.

This program was first presented on Saturday, July 20. It was to have been presented at the foot of the 150-year-old bridge but rain that night forced the program into the auditorium of the Grantsville Elementary School.

Charles Sager, professor of music at Frostburg State College, who directed the 100-voice chorus at the first performance, has consented to be in charge again for the repeat performance outdoors.

Explains College Report

Hardesty Sees Broader Scope At Frostburg

Faculty To Get More Professors

A broadened educational program can be expected at Frostburg State College now that the word "Teachers" has been dropped from its title.

That is the opinion of R. Bowen Hardesty, president of the institution which became Frostburg State College July 1. He was guest speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at Central YMCA.

Simply changing the name will not change the college, Mr. Hardesty cautioned. He cited some of the changes that are resulting from the changed name. He pointed out that five more professors are being added to the faculty for the new school year.

Majors can be offered in philosophy, sociology, economics, political science, speech and anthropology now, he added.

22 More On Faculty

Actually, the college faculty is being increased by 22 members for the coming school year and replacements are being found for 10 others who were on the faculty last year. Mr. Hardesty said Frostburg is competing against Princeton, Yale and the U. S. Office of Education in obtaining new faculty members.

The college can expect more books for its library and more land for expansion as a state college. The goal is to expand the college campus from its present 45 or 50 acres to some 450 acres, enough land to serve an enrollment of 5,000 that can be anticipated in the next 75 to 100 years. Some 160 acres has been acquired and 200 to 225 acres more are being sought.

Mr. Hardesty cited some of the ways in which quality education will be stressed at Frostburg. Reading from the "100 Great Books" will be encouraged. Seminars will be established in the junior year for those students planning graduate work.

Project Required

A major project will be required in each student's senior year, designed to pull together the learning of four years at Frostburg. Acceleration will be encouraged. He emphasized that some young people coming to Frostburg from particularly good high schools in Montgomery, Baltimore and Prince George's counties already have done the equivalent of college freshman work. Some of them readily can complete their undergraduate studies at Frostburg in three to three-and-one-half years.

The college president predicted that more out-of-state and some foreign students will be attracted to Frostburg by the change in emphasis.

Mr. Hardesty said he thought it was fortunate for Western Maryland that William L. Wilson, Cumberland attorney, has been named as the first chairman of the new State College Board of Trustees, as he can be expected to look out for the interests of the college in Frostburg.

In a period of questions and answers at the end of the program, the college president acknowledged that education at Frostburg may become more costly.

"We don't want to price young people out of an education," he stressed.

The speaker concluded his remarks with a hope that the state college in Frostburg may eventually become a small university of Western Maryland.
